TWO CONGRESSMEN IN LIVELY FIST FIGHT!

Traffic Commission Is Preparing Recommendations

CITY'S FINES SYSTEM IS CAUSE OF INQUIRY

Every Angle of Glendale Auto Problem Is Up For Consideration

Complete recommendations from the Citizens' Traffic commission to the Glendale City Council will be made on Monday or Tuesday of next week, it was decided at last night's meeting of the commission, held in the Glendale office of the Automobile Club of Southern California, 248 South Brand boulevard. Seven of the nine members of the commission were present.

At another meeting of the commission, to be held at the same place tomorrow night, Friday, May 9, final details of the recommendations put to the councilmen at the joint session of Monday, May 5.

The recommendations to be made cover practically every angle of the local traffic problem, including flasher lights, signs and school stops, according to Mr. Townman.

The commission dwelt last night particularly on the statement from the City Council that no special instructions were given Police Chief John D. Fraser as to how he should conduct his office, the interpretation of how the law is to be enforced resting largely in his own hands.

Income From Fines
Much weight was placed by the commission on the information that $53,897.30 was collected in fines within the fiscal year limits during the fiscal year from July 1, 1922, to July 1, 1923.

The commission also weighed heavily, in arriving at a basis for recommendations, the information that $38,692 had been collected up to April 1 of the present fiscal year.

While the list of recommendations is not yet complete, Mr. Townman states that they will embody a plan for raising city finances in a slightly different way than at present employed, as it is felt the large number of fines at present collected have a baleful advertising effect.

Crown Prince Writing Book About War Guilt

BERLIN, May 8.—Former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm will shortly publish a book dealing with war guilt, it was learned today.

$100 FIRE IN CAFE

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—Fire starting in the basement of Brannister's Crillon cafe early today called out numerous pieces of apparatus to extinguish a $100 blaze.

Three Diseases Lead In California's Death Toll

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—Tuberculosis, cancer and pneumonia in the order named last year were the greatest contributing causes of death in California, according to figures given out by L. E. Ross, director of the state bureau of vital statistics.

There were 55,416 deaths in the state in 1923. Tuberculosis accounted for 5724, cancer proved fatal in 4702 cases and pneumonia is credited with a toll of 3700 deaths.

According to Ross, alcoholism last year was responsible for only 120 deaths during the year. The state official declared the annual fatalities from alcoholism prior to the

Bill Gives Extension, Quota Basis To Japan

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Congressional resentment over the postponement of Japanese exclusion until March 1, 1925, flared up in both houses this afternoon.

It was revealed for the first time that not only has a concession been made to Japan in the way of a time extension, but also that from July 1 of this year until March 1, 1925, Japan was placed on a quota basis like any other nation.

This revelation came as a shock to the exclusionists in congress and served to feed the fires of discord.

The revelation as to the quota concession came during debate in the Senate, and caused a small sensation, for never in history has Japan been allowed a quota of immigrants to this country, and in passing the present immigration bill, both houses specifically voted down not only a quota provision for Japan, but the "gentlemen's agreement" as well.

CALIFORNIA OIL LANDS AT STAKE

Government May File Suit To Recover Reserves Leased by Fall

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, May 8.—Court action by the government to recover 3057 acres in the Buena Vista, Cal., naval oil reserve, leased by ex-Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall to the Honolulu Consolidated Oil corporation, loomed as a strong possibility today.

Following a report by E. C. Pinney, assistant secretary of the Interior, that he was unable to find in the department's files any record that Fall obtained the approval of the late President Harding to lease the reserve, Democratic members of the public lands committee indicated they would ask that prompt steps be taken to regain the land.

Law Is Explicit
The law specifically provides that leases upon public domain must receive the approval of the president.

Ex-Governor J. V. Gillett of California, counsel for the Honolulu company, in a brief filed with the committee today, declared Harding gave Fall blanket authority to lease naval reserves. He further said the validity of the lease had been contested in court in 1922 and that a decree favoring the company was handed down.

To Appeal Case
Gillett said, however, he did not know whether the court had been advised that the department could not find authorization for Fall to grant the lease.

If this were not done, Senator Walsh declared the department of justice should take the case to higher courts upon appeal.

Money, Shirts, Cloaks Demanded as Ransom

MADRID, May 8.—Moroccan rebels who captured three Spanish monks, demanded as ransom 800,000 pounds in money, 600 woolen shirts and six hundred Arab cloaks, said a dispatch from Melilla today.

BONUS WILL COST OVER 6 BILLION

Treasury Experts Prepare Figures to Show Total Amount Required

By ROBT. S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, May 8.—The soldiers' bonus bill as passed by Congress ultimately will cost $6,700,000,000, over a period of sixty years, according to the figures prepared by treasury actuaries for President Coolidge.

These figures are expected to play an important part in the President's anticipated veto of the bill, now before him.

The actual amount to be paid soldier beneficiaries amounts to $3,700,000,000, the rest being taken up by interest and administrative charges.

$61 Per Capita
Assuming the population as 100,000,000, the per capita cost would be $61, over the sixty year period, or $1 per year.

The necessity of a sinking fund created of government bonds to reach a total of about $3,600,000,000 at the end of twenty years to finance payments when insurance policies mature, will be called to the President's attention by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. At the end of twenty years the government would put the accumulation to work.

RED WAR MENACE LOOMS IN RUHR

Reports Show 300,000 Coal Miners on Strike or Are Locked Out

BERLIN, May 8.—The menace of a "red war" in the Ruhr loomed higher today when news was received that the Communists have brought about strikes and lock-outs affecting 300,000 men, mostly coal miners.

Russian agents are alleged to have persuaded the German reds to precipitate labor troubles and to make demonstrations in celebration of their sensational success at the polls, when they increased their Reichstag seats to more than sixty.

Serious disorders are feared. So far the French and Belgian troops have not interfered.

Situation Complicated
The whole situation has become complicated by the rupture between the German and Soviet governments over the police raid upon Russian trade headquarters and the departure of Russian Ambassador Krestinsky for Moscow.

Violence is feared at Halle, where hostile factions are lining up.

Labor troubles have spread from the Ruhr to Saxony and Silesia. The virtual cessation of the coal industry threatens to paralyze industry. The trouble in the Ruhr arose over the government's attempt to extend the working shift from seven to eight hours.

VETO LOOMS FOR MANY MEASURES

President Notifies Senate Leaders of Bills That Face Rejection

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Nothing but vetoes lie ahead, President Coolidge has let it be known that certain bills pending in Congress do not meet with his approval and the only inference that now can be drawn is that he will veto most of them.

The president sent for Senators Lodge, Borah and Smoot yesterday. He talked over with them the whole legislative program and the question of adjournment. The Democrats have in the last twenty-four hours, indicated a change of front—they no longer feel that Congress should be terminated before the political conventions.

Their opportunities for attack and publicity and continued investigation would be hampered, they feel, by falling in line with the Republican plan of adjournment. Also, there are too many bills in which the insurgent Republicans and the Democrats have a united interest and which the regular Republicans would like to lose in the shuffle.

The president is plainly dissatisfied with the tax bill in its present shade. He hopes for a change in conference and will not announce his decision until then.

REPORT REVEALS CROP CONDITION

Yield of Winter Wheat Will Run 15.2 Bushels to Acre, Is Claim

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The average condition of winter wheat May 1 was 84.8 per cent, compared with 83 on April 1 and 86.3, the average for the past ten years on May 1, the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture announced today. This condition indicates a yield of approximately 15.2 bushels per acre and a total production of 553,013,000 bushels.

On May 1 the area of winter wheat to be harvested was about 36,898,000 acres, or 7.6 per cent less than the acreage planted last autumn, and 2,624,000 acres, or 6.6 per cent less than the acreage harvested last year.

This arrangement, it was said, will take care of all the company's needs and means there will be no public financing and no reduction of dividends.

METHODISTS RAISE BAN ON DANCE

Merger of Two Branches of Church Body to Modify Rigid Discipline

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 8.—Lifting of the age-old ban of the Methodist Episcopal church against attending dances, theatres, circuses and horse races will be one of the immediate results of the unification of the church with the Methodist church, South, it was stated today at the general conference in session here.

Amusements are permitted by the rules of the southern church but were denied by the Methodist Episcopal branch.

Liberals Back Plan
A large group of liberals is back of the plan to have the amusement ban lifted on dances.

The southern church will not permit the amusement ban and the New England, Southern New York, New York East, Newark, Rock River, Ill., and Central Pennsylvania conferences already have declared for a lifting of the ban.

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of the New England area said the influence of a group of actors should not sway the delegates. The rules of the church prevent actors and actresses from joining the Methodist church. The Actors' Equity association has formally protested to the conference against this rule, claiming many actors attend Methodist churches even though they are not permitted to become members.

Temper Discipline to Modern Needs, Is Aim
Relative to the lifting of the amusement ban by the Methodist conference, The Literary Digest says:

"Restrictions against circuses, dancing, theatre attendance and certain other forms of amusement will be blotted from the Methodist Church Book of Discipline, if liberal sentiment against them has triumphed."

Senate Rushes Tax Bill To Final Consideration

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Sweeping aside all dilatory tactics, the Senate this afternoon rushed toward final consideration of the administration's new tax reduction bill. Scores of minor amendments were disposed of with unusual rapidity while administration leaders announced they hoped to reach a final vote on the bill itself before adjournment tonight.

The Senate restored a gift tax to the measure this afternoon, reversing the action of the finance committee in killing a similar tax proposed by the House. The new gift tax, ranging from 1 per cent on $25,000 to 38 per cent on sums above $50,000, would place the same rate upon gifts made during a taxpayer's lifetime as were previously placed on inheritances and estate gifts.

The exceptions to the gift tax were $10,000 in cases of strangers, $25,000 on gifts to a child or parent, and $50,000 on gifts exchanged between a husband and wife.

CONGRESS TO REVOLT ON JAP ISSUE

Delay In Exclusion Date to Start Bitter Fight In Coolidge's Party

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, May 8.—A revolt of hurricane proportions was brewing in Congress today over the age-old question of Japanese exclusion—an issue that a week ago was considered settled.

The remarkable about-face of the conference committee of the Senate and House in agreeing to an extension until March 1, 1925, before exclusion becomes effective, has kicked up a tempest that threatens serious complications before it blows itself out.

Hughes Insists
The conference committee agreed to the extension with reluctance and only at the express demand of President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes. It was reported that Mr. Hughes made the matter a personal issue and it was at his insistence that the president himself wrote the amendment which the conference finally agreed to submit to their respective houses.

The exclusion advocates, led by Pacific coast members, were seething with indignation today and threatening to give the White House and state department a sharp rebuke by promptly rejecting the amendment written in Mr. Coolidge's own handwriting.

It is unlikely a vote can be had until tomorrow, but it seemed certain today that neither the Senate

WORLD COURT IS URGED BY LODGE

Enemy of League Advocates New Body to Include United States

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Creation of a new world court, with American adherence, but entirely independent of the League of Nations, was proposed in the Senate this afternoon by Senator Lodge, Republican, of Massachusetts, leader of the old "irreconcilable group."

The Lodge plan would establish a court of twelve judges selected by conventions with authority to decide all international disputes. It contained no provision for enforcing the court's decision except by the pressure of public opinion.

Russian Manufacturer Sentenced to Death
RIGA, May 8.—Two Russian manufacturers, one of them president of the textile trust, have been sentenced to death on charges of corruption and unfair business practices, said a dispatch from Moscow today.

CHAIR, BOOK AND WORDS FIGURE IN DUEL AT MEETING

Hammer of North Carolina And Blanton of Texas Engage In Battle

WASHINGTON, May 8.—A fight between Representative Hammer, North Carolina, and Representative Blanton, of Texas, occurred this morning at a committee meeting, at which witnesses were to be examined. Hammer, during the fight, hung a chair around the head and shoulders of Blanton.

The battle was lively while it lasted, the two members swinging wildly and struggling to get at each other while spectators and other congressmen endeavored to keep them apart.

The trouble started when Representative Blanton objected to the meeting being held on the ground he had not been previously notified.

Hammer said Blanton had "wilfully misunderstood" an announcement about the meeting. "You're a garrulous old grandmother," retorted Blanton. "That's not true," cried Hammer, "and you haven't the courtesy of a dog to say it."

"You're a liar," yelled Blanton. Hammer swung and missed. Blanton swung and missed. All even.

Chair For Weapon
As Blanton swung again—and missed—the North Carolinian picked up a folding chair and reaching over the head of William F. Ham, president of the Washington Railway and Electric company, he struck the Texan.

By this time the spectators who were not hunting cover were hanging on the coat tails of the contestants and they finally succeeded in pulling them apart.

The committee then adjourned until tonight, when Blanton said he would be present and cross-examine every witness. This assertion led to more trouble.

"That's my privilege," said Blanton, "and I'll fight for my rights."

Another Round
"When you talk right it's merely bluff," shouted Hammer.

"You are a coward. You've been beaten like a dog and I'll beat you again."

"That's a lie," yelled the Texan, leaning across the table and gesticulating.

Hammer picked up a bound copy of some files on the table and swung hard. He missed.

"What are you trying to do, brain me?" screamed Blanton.

"Only a coward uses books and chairs. Fight with your fists like a man."

Representative Zellman, Republican, Maryland, interposed and hastily adjourned the session.

HOLD-UP IS SHOT

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—In an attempted hold-up, Earl Tabor, 23, was shot with his own revolver by his intended victim, C. Roth, at Fortieth place and Normandie.

Tabor, accompanied by Mrs. Annie Tabor on his robbery trip, was shot in the back of the neck.

Denies U. S. Navy Falls Behind Britain, Japan

NEW YORK, May 8.—Assertions that the American navy falls below England and Japan in a 5-3-1 ratio, were branded as "preposterous" today by Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, here to address the National Security League tonight.

"Next week the heads of the various naval department bureaus will present to Congress figures showing that such a statement is preposterous," Secretary Wilbur declared in an interview. "I stand for a hundred per cent navy equal to that of any other power, plus a preponderance in those respects not covered by the disarmament treaty," Secretary Wilbur said. "There is no immediate danger of war. Our development of the fleet will be constant and not sporadic."

Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. J. E. McClellan was hostess yesterday to the members of the Wednesday Bridge club when she entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon and card party at her home, 630 West Wilson avenue.

Arrangements of spring flowers in the yellow and orchid shades were used in decoration.
The luncheon table decorations were carried out in the same tints. Dainty place cards and favors in the same color scheme marked the guests' places.

After luncheon the afternoon was devoted to playing bridge at which Mrs. T. J. Keleher was awarded first prize. Mrs. Frank Clark second, and Mrs. H. E. Mc-Cartney consolation.

The guests present were Mesdames F. Banham, G. A. Wendt,
H. E. McCartney, Frank Clark, J.
A. Endicott, C. Young, L. C.
Wolfe, T. J. Keleher, W. H. Jones and Miss Eva Brehme, all of Glendale, and Mrs. Kimball, of Los Angeles.

At Brehme Home

Miss Eva Brehme was hostess last night to the members of the Rodaire club at her home, 806
South Maryland avenue.

Green and white were combined in the decorative color scheme.
Arrangements of lovely white lilies and ferns were used in profusion.

The evening was devoted to an informal social time and at a late hour a two course luncheon was served.

Those present were the Misses Zilda Cross, Henrietta Meek and Mesdames Ray Engle, Robert Godar, Paul McCowan, James McCowan, and Herman Pessenner.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Zilda Cross, 218 West Windsor road on Wednesday night, May 14.

Happy Surprise

Z. T. Bolcourt of Montrose, a former resident of Glendale, was pleasantly surprised Sunday when with Mrs. Bolcourt he reached home after attending church service in Glendale, to find a number of his friends assembled to congratulate him and assist in the celebration of his birthday anniversary.

Those present were Mrs. and Mrs. C. E. Russell to be guests at luncheon, but it was a complete surprise to him to arrive and find the rest of the party present and luncheon ready to serve for eleven.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs.
B. F. Geiger, Mr. and Mrs. C. E.
Russell, Mr. M. L. Locklin, Mr.
and Mrs. C. W. Spickerman, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Haw, all of Glen-court.

Plan For Dinner

Members of the Spanish War Veterans Women's Auxiliary held their regular business meeting last night in the K. P. hall, with the president, Mrs. Martha Warren, in charge.

At this time plans were made for an "Army Dinner" to be given on Wednesday night, May 21, at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. L. Peters was appointed chairman of the committee in charge and further announcements of the details will be made at a later date.

During the meeting announcement was made that the convention to have been held at Chico has been postponed on account of the foot and mouth disease.

Other business of importance to members only was also discussed.

Young Mothers

The "Young Mothers' class" of the Glendale Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. H. Wiebe is president, held a very interesting and enjoyable business and social meeting at the church yesterday afternoon.

The meeting convened at 3 o'clock, when a short program was presented, including piano selections by Mrs. Stanley Pearl and reading, "Going to Bed" by Madeline Finkbinder.

Following the program, the business session was held, when several matters of importance to members only were discussed.

The rest of the afternoon was devoted to a very informal social hour when refreshments were served.

Social Musical

What is declared to be a unique strawberry social and musical is planned for Friday night at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church
by the women of the J. O. C. class.

Mrs. Alice Brown, president of the class, appointed Mrs. F. B.
Maynard, chairman of the affair, and she and her committee are working out most elaborate plans.
All members and friends of the church are invited to attend. The affair will begin at 7:30 o'clock, and the serving will be done cafeteria style.

Proceeds are to go to the fund for building an addition to the church.

Joint Gathering

The regular semi-monthly business meeting of the G. A. R. and
W. R. C. will be held tomorrow,
Friday, May 9, in the G. A. R.
hall on South Glendale avenue, it is announced.

The members of the Post will hold their business session in the morning with comrade T. C. Fuller, commander, in charge.

The W. R. C. members will meet in the afternoon at 2:15 o'clock when several matters of importance will be discussed. All members are urged to be in attendance. Mary Bennett, president, will be in charge.

Give May Party

The Live Cole class of the Central Christian church announces a May festival for Friday night at 8 o'clock at the church.
Plenty of good entertainment is promised and everyone is invited to attend.

Chosen Curator

Mrs. Herbert D. Fortier, who has been an active member of the Literature department of the Tuesday Afternoon club, was chosen curator for the new year at the department meeting yesterday at the clubhouse.

Other officers chosen are Mrs.
Vernell Rapp, secretary, and Mrs.
Charles T. Jones, treasurer.

Plans were made for making and selling candy at the garden fete May 24 at the Brand estate.

An invitation was also received from Mrs. C. A. Brandstater inviting the department members to attend the meeting next Monday of the Parliamentary Law department. Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., is to have charge of the study and drill and will conduct a question box.

Yesterday the club women enjoyed piano numbers by Miss Gladys Hopper, a pupil of Miss Gertrude Cleophas. She played
"To the Sea" (MacDowell), and
"Gypsy Rondo."

Phillip Gibbs, English Journalist and novelist, was the literary personality considered. Mrs. E.
Edith Fessenden gave a sketch of his life. Mrs. Alfred Smith reviewed his book, "The Middle of the Road;" Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth gave a sketch of his new book, "Heirs Apparent."

Reviews Book

The regular weekly meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle took place yesterday at the Public Library, with Mrs. H. V.
Henry in charge.

Of special interest was the review given by Mrs. W. A. Kulp of part of "Talks to Mothers" by Angelo Patri. The chapters considered were "Thou Shalt" and "Let Them Help." Mrs. Kulp stated that the book is in the library and recommended the mothers to read it.

Roll call was answered with quotations and after the reading of the treasurer's report by Mrs.
McLean, Mrs. Henry read from the story book, "Schools of Tomorrow." A general discussion followed.

Hosts at Dinner

One of the enjoyable affairs of the week was the dinner party given last Sunday by Mr. and Mrs.
Fred Maier of 1355 Hilda avenue, complimenting their house guest,
Mrs. J. C. Redward of Seattle, Wash.

Artistic arrangements of California poppies were used attractively as decoration.

Those who were present at the organization meeting were Her-
mine S. Hudson, Neille Jennings,
Berg, Margaret Mac-
Caughina, Myrtle Rodenbough, C.
Hewitt, Agnes Allen, Georgia
Lambie, Lily Lynn, Maude E.
Watrous, Freda Augustine, Montana Cozad, Helen Watrous, Eva
Mae Smith, Margaret B. Lambie,
Bertha Wilson, Hattie E. Lawson,
Mary F. Wolfe, Myrtle Ware and
Anna Gardner.

Hear Miss Hagen

Experiences of a missionary in Japan and description of the recent earthquake disaster were told in a most interesting manner by Miss Edith Hagen, recently returned from the Orient, who was honored guest and speaker at the Missionary society of the Central Christian church.

Mrs. R. C. Logan, president, also introduced as another speaker, Mrs. Bierma, who, assisted by a group of women, presented a dramatic sketch of the missionary work in India, where Mrs. Bierma has served.

P. E. O. Affair

A spring luncheon and meeting was enjoyed yesterday by members of Chapter A. H. P. E. O., as guests of Mrs. A. W. Beach of 1321 North Maryland avenue.

Mrs. Beach was assisted in receiving and entertaining by her daughter Miss Helen Beach, and Mrs. Alice Gray Wellman.

Mrs. Edith Smith, president, directed the meeting, during which she and Miss Lucile Eames gave reports of the recent convention in Los Angeles.

After luncheon the time was spent informally.

Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Grover of 830 East Orange Grove avenue announce the marriage of their brother, Charles Elmer Francis, to Miss Erma Arline English, Monday, May 5, 1924, in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. English were formerly residents of San Diego, but are to make their future home in Glendale, where Mr. English is employed.

Y. L. I. Meeting

The regular business meeting of the Y. L. I. will be held tonight in the K. C. club-house at 8 o'clock, it is announced. Mrs.
Frank Clark, president of the society urges all members to be in attendance.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Form Social Club

A group of members of Glendale
Chapter O. E. S. Under Dispensation met yesterday afternoon at the home of the worthy matron,
Mrs. Hermine S. Hudson, 640
North Central avenue, and organized a sewing and social club. The name selected for the club is The Electa Auxiliary of the Glendale
Chapter, O. E. S., and will meet every first and third Wednesday of each month.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
Clyde S. Hewitt, president;
Maude E. Watrous, vice-president;
Freda Augustine, secretary; Hettie E. Lawson, treasurer.

After the business session an informal social hour and refreshments were enjoyed.

All members of Glendale chapter who wish to join the Electa club are asked to telephone Glendale 2507-J or call at 418 East
Raleigh street.

Those who were present at the organization meeting were Her-
mine S. Hudson, Neille Jennings,
Berg, Margaret Mac-
Caughina, Myrtle Rodenbough, C.
Hewitt, Agnes Allen, Georgia
Lambie, Lily Lynn, Maude E.
Watrous, Freda Augustine, Montana Cozad, Helen Watrous, Eva
Mae Smith, Margaret B. Lambie,
Bertha Wilson, Hattie E. Lawson,
Mary F. Wolfe, Myrtle Ware and
Anna Gardner.

Women's League

The Women's Union Label League held its regular business meeting last night in the
I. O. O. F. hall with a very good attendance. Mrs. H. H. Black, president of the league, presided over the meeting.

Following the business session an enjoyable program was given including readings by Mrs. Bernard, and Mrs. J. F. Charles. This was followed by an informal social time when refreshments were served.

During the meeting announcement was made that the election of officers would be held at the next meeting, June 4. All members are urged to be in attendance at this meeting.

Shower Honoree

Miss Mae Tatum of 4160 Verdant avenue, Atwater tract, who is to become the bride June 1 of Chif-ford Von Ossdl, was recently honored at a miscellaneous shower affair given at the W. R.
Hoopell home at 3141 Atwater avenue.

Those present were Mrs. William Von Ossdl and Misses Emily and Dorothy Von Ossdl, Mr. and Mrs. Merl Burk, Mr. and Mrs.
Sullivan Von Ossdl of Glendale,
Mrs. Katie Anderson and sons
Theron and Lloyd of Los Angeles,
Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hoffman, Mr.
Entrekin of Goodyear Park, Clark
Finney and the Tatum family.

Re-elect Officers

At the meeting of the Doran Street Parent-Teacher association held yesterday afternoon in the school house, with the president,
Mrs. Clark C. Johnson, in charge, annual reports were given by all officers and committee chairmen.

This was followed by the election of officers for the coming year. All officers were re-elected with the exception of the vice president, accordingly officers for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Mrs. Clark Johnson; vice president, Mrs. F. J.
Lynn; secretary, Mrs. George
Pierce; treasurer, Mrs. A. W.
Woodmansee; auditor, Mrs. J. M.
Fife; historian, Mrs. E. G. Pom-ero.

The following delegates were appointed to attend the twenty-fifth annual convention of California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associatis, which will be held May 20 and 23
in Pasadena: Mesdames Clark C.
Johnson, C. A. Perpening, Elwood
Pomeroy, Florence Wintersgill, F.
J. Lynn, Philip Olson, S. C. Ma-ranville, D. Ford McCormick.

During the meeting announcement was made relative to the purchase by the association of a phonograph and a number of cups and saucers for the school.

In the observance of National Music Week the afternoon's program included several selections

COLLEGE WOMEN'S CLUB WILL VOTE ON NEW OFFICERS

Annual Business Meeting Is Scheduled to Be Held Saturday, May 10

An annual meeting, with election and reports, is oftentimes an uninteresting announcement to members of an organization, but every member of the Glendale College Women's club is keenly anticipating the annual business meeting Saturday afternoon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Of course the annual election of officers is of first interest, and Mrs. Charles Barker and her nominating committee have formulated a ballot that will be presented to every club member upon the opening of the meeting at 2:30 o'clock. The polls will close at 3:30 o'clock. Only members presenting membership cards will be privileged to vote. While no announcement is made at this time of names that will appear on the ballot, it is understood that much good material was suggested by the nominating ballots sent in by the club members, and the candidates chosen are all capable and prominent clubwomen.

Will Hear Reports
 Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, who has so splendidly served as president during the past year, will have charge of the meeting, during which officers will make their reports.

A special report will be that on the recent benefit for the scholarship fund. This will be made in detail by Katherine V. Sinks, chairman of scholarship.

Program Outlined
 A vote is to be taken on the amendment to the bylaws making the initiation fee $5 and the annual dues $3.50. If this is adopted the budget outlined at the last meeting by Mrs. Frank Parr, will also be adopted.

Entertainment of the afternoon will be readings by Mrs. Max Lynn Green; vocal selections by Mrs. Hartley Shaw; and piano numbers by Mrs. H. W. Schroeder. Hostesses assisting Miss Hazel White, hospitality chairman, and Mrs. R. L. Holland, courtesy chairman, will be Miss Spier, chairman, and women from colleges in Illinois, Minnesota and Kansas Agricultural college.

Plan Mothers' Day Program at Church For Next Sunday

The Mothers' Day program to be presented at the Glendale Presbyterian church on Sunday May 11, will include singing led by Rev. H. B. White. Dr. Johnson of San Francisco, representing the foreign missionary board will open both the morning and evening services. The Harmony Quartette, who assisted the Glee Club last Monday night, will be present during the Sunday evening service and render several selections.

NEWS IS LAUDED BY CLUB WOMEN

Support Accorded to Recent Convention Is Praised As Chairmen Meet

That the hearty support given by The Glendale Evening News to the recent convention in Glendale of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, was one of the happy successes of the gathering was the expression given yesterday by Mrs. Leland Atherton, Irish, district press chairman, at a meeting in Los Angeles of press chairmen from all parts of the district.

Miss Eva Daniels is press chairman for the Tuesday Afternoon club, and she states that it was with pride that she listened to the praise of The Glendale Evening News.

Mrs. Irish has prepared a press book for Mrs. Charles H. Toll, district president, and in this book clippings from The Glendale Evening News are given much space. Mrs. Toll's picture. On one of the opening pages Mrs. Irish has pasted the picture of Mrs. Toll, published in the special convention edition of The Glendale Evening News of Tuesday, April 9. From the same paper she has cut in strip form the big red headline, "Club Women, Glendale Welcomes You." This strip she has pasted diagonally across the page, presenting the appearance of a brilliant banner.

CIRCULATION OF BOYS' NEWSPAPER GROWS STEADILY

Pioneer Notchers Issuing Bright Little Sheet On Club Doings

The Pioneer News edited and published by a group of young boys, all members of the Pioneer Notchers' club of Glendale and vicinity, is steadily growing in size and increasing in circulation. The paper is published primarily with the thought of assisting in promoting the activities and ideals of the Pioneer Notchers' club. The editors of the paper, Robert Rist of 326 West Harvard street, and William Goss of 514 East Harvard street, assisted by Walter Roberts as chief reporter, are making splendid progress with the Pioneer News and each issue is anxiously awaited by all Pioneer members.

Pioneer News
 Each edition contains five or more pages devoted to material especially interesting to all Pioneer members and their friends. It is issued twice a month. It is mimeographed by the boys themselves and is altogether a very neatly composed and worthy paper.

There is included in the paper an editorial page, jokes, interesting news items pertaining to the Pioneer's activities, and a page devoted to announcements of the various groups' meetings, plays and conferences.

Special Writers
 Through the medium of the Pioneer News the various Pioneer Groups are given wide publicity. Each group has its own reporter who takes care of its publicity and all news items pertaining to the special group. In this manner they are assisting in a fine way in gaining a large number of new members.

Considerable space has been given in the last issue of the Pioneer News pertaining to the Camp Leaders and Key Boys' conference to be held at the Pacific Palisades on May 9 and 10. This conference is especially for prospective camp leaders, committeemen, laymen, key boys and honor boys from all the groups.

Graham Crackers

By F. A. GRAHAM

A cracker-jack man is one who tries to make money writing smart crax.

Having thus relieved the vacuum in many a temple of thought the meeting is called to order. You may have noticed that Professor Xantippe has suppressed himself quite satisfactorily of late. But don't congratulate yourself too much. He's liable to break out again any unfortunate time.

The truth is that the professor has been suffering from a severe attack of muscular rheumatism, which settled between his ears.

We are sorry to report that the learned descendant of what Darwin said is again able to do his sitting-up exercises. If you want to get some pointers on sitting-up exercises drop around to his house some day at dinner time and you will find him doing them at the table.

He never eats unless at home and he feels at home any place.

Discouraging reports are to the effect that the prof will be out again soon, if Chief Fraser gets absent minded and leaves the door unlocked.

Don't say anything about this to the professor. We wouldn't have it get back to him for worlds that we mentioned it.

One of Professor Xantippe's colleagues tells us that Xan as a race has declined, but personally we never met one who would.

Since mentioning rheumatism up near the head of this column several calls have come in asking questions. For the benefit of Prunella it is stated that Muscular is not a form of rheumatism, although it does seem to give lots of people a severe pain.

Chief Fraser says he is on the scent of some house breakers. It must be some of those people who have recently passed through a quarantine fumigating station, in which case all the chief need do is follow his nose.

The keeper just called to escort us back to our upholstered apartment, so that will be awl, as the shoemaker said.

LAST RITES FOR HARRY F. TOBIAS

Funeral for Youth Killed In Accident Will Be Held Tomorrow

The funeral of Harry Gordon Tobias, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tobias of 1633 South San Fernando road, who died Wednesday, May 7, 1924, at the Los Angeles hospital, will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park. Mr. Tobias' death followed serious internal injuries he received Sunday, when he was thrown from his motorcycle and struck a telephone pole.

Thrown From Machine
 According to reports, Mr. Tobias was returning home late Sunday afternoon from attending the races. He was traveling along on his motorcycle at a fast rate of speed when his motorcycle struck a bump in the road in Angelus Heights and he was thrown directly against a telephone pole with such force that he received terrible internal injuries. He was rushed to a Los Angeles hospital, where a group of surgical specialists performed an operation in an effort to save his life, but his injuries proved fatal. Surviving him are his parents and a sister and brother, Mrs. Ben Marsh and Clinton Tobias. Mr. Tobias was studying chemistry.

Set Date of Hearing On Investigations

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Justice Stafford of the District of Columbia supreme court today directed the Wheeler-Brookhart committee to show cause on May 23 why it should not be enjoined from pressing its investigation of charges that former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty failed to prosecute violations of the anti-trust laws.

EXPECT LOW PRICES

ATLANTA, May 8.—Prospect for cheaper lumber by midsummer is checking building in the south-east to some extent, although in this city the volume of construction passed the $1,500,000 mark for the first time this year in April. Small builders admit they are playing a "hunch" based largely on the idea that orders are running below production at the majority of the southern lumber mills. Shortage of farm labor and the necessity of replanting large acreages damaged by storms and bad weather has made the agricultural outlook less favorable than at any time this spring.

HUNDREDS VISIT BOTTLING PLANT, SEE PUNCH MADE

Watch 'Glendale Punch' as Mixed by Sierra Club Beverage Co., Inc.

Fully 2500 visitors attended the "Glendale Punch" party held last night at the bottling plant of the Sierra Club Beverage company, Inc., 602 East Wilson avenue, reports Francis J. W. Henry, manager. They were shown through the model sanitary plant and pronounced the new drink on a par with the eleven other bottled numbers that have made the Sierra Club brand a byword all up and down the Pacific coast in fine clubs, restaurants and cafes. Glendale Punch will not only be sold throughout California, Oregon, Washington and Arizona in bottled form, but will be exploited throughout the United States as a concentrate, to be bottled by other plants under the trade mark name, thus heralding Glendale afar, according to Mr. Henry.

The hundreds of visitors who last night were the guests of the Sierra Club Beverage company, Inc., explored every nook and cranny of the plant, from laboratory to bottling works. They saw the huge pasteurizing machine, where every bottle of the company's beverage is treated, thus eliminating the necessity for use of artificial preservatives. They saw the almost human washing, bottling and labeling machines, and noted how each bottle is inspected for any possible defect or impurity. And they saw the great glass-lined tank where the pure water is put under pressure.

Congratulate Owners
 As a result of their trip, the visitors who had previously pronounced the punch excellent declared that it was no wonder, coming from such a sanitary plant, and they congratulated Mr. Henry and his associates on having been so successful in marketing this Glendale product.

"Indeed, so sanitary are the products of our plant," says Mr. Henry, "that they are never touched by hand from the time they are made till they are bottled, pasteurized and cased. And when they go out under our label, Glendale is advertised all over the Pacific coast and throughout the United States as well."

Plan N w Building
 Such has been the success of the Sierra Club Beverage company, Inc., that next year a new building is to be erected to house a crushed fruits department, according to Mr. Henry, who states that his company is the only one in the country marketing fluid fruit, orange and lemon, made from absolutely pure juices, supplied by the Sunkist people, and marketed as orange and lemon drinks without the addition of artificial color, flavor or acid.

In addition, this company turns out a full line of soda fountain syrups and is well known in the trade for the high quality of its goods. The visitors were told last night, during their tour of the plant under the genial guidance of Francis J. W. Henry, manager of the Sierra Club Beverage company, Inc.

Rev. Arthur A. Moore Dies at Home In L. A.

Glendallians who have attended the occult society meetings at 113 South Orange street, will be sorry to learn of the death Tuesday afternoon, May 6, 1924, in Los Angeles, of Rev. Arthur A. Moore, who with his wife, Mrs. Mabel Moore, has conducted the meetings. His death followed an illness of three weeks. In addition to his wife Mr. Moore leaves a son, Guy. Funeral services are to be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Washington funeral chapel, 735 West Washington street, Los Angeles.

Announce Program For Big Missionary Week in Glendale

The program for missionary week to be held at the Glendale Presbyterian church beginning Monday, May 12, is as follows:

Monday night, May 12, fellowship dinner. Complimentary tickets will be given to all Glendale pastors and their wives. Following the banquet a children's program will be presented at 8 o'clock. Tuesday night, May 13, is Christian Endeavor night. Wednesday night, May 14, prayer meeting with the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds in charge. Thursday night, May 15, Men's night. Friday night, May 16, Pagan night. "The Uplifting Light" will be presented by the Sunday School department under the direction of Mrs. Miller.

Glendale Oil Operator Hastens To New Field

J. S. Lundregan of 308 East Maple avenue, who spent the week-end at his home, left this morning for Santa Paula, where excitement is running high over the opening of the new oil district.

Mr. Lundregan, a resident of Glendale for many years, is one of the pioneer oil operators who was instrumental in the opening of the Bakersfield, McKittrick, Coalinga and Midway oil fields, and, with his associates of the Ring Oil Syndicate, has again been a pioneer in opening this entirely new district near Santa Paula, Ventura county, South Mountain district, section 23, township 3, range 20 west. This opens up a large amount of new oil territory in this district.

The Ring well was cemented at 3000 feet and the well tested out at 3008, where they went into eight feet of oil sand. This comes as a surprise to oil prospectors who months ago pronounced this district to be dry territory.

WELFARE COUNCIL INCREASE STAFF REPORTS ON WORK OF REALTY FIRM

Officials Outline Their Visits Made In April and All Expenditures

Heads of the Welfare Council and Bureau met last night at the city hall to review the work of the past month. In attendance were Mrs. E. D. Yard, president; Mrs. L. T. Rowley, secretary; Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, treasurer; Mrs. F. S. Card, director.

Report showed that during the month of April the following were recorded: Home visits, forty-two; interviews at office, seven; families assisted, twenty; new cases reported and assisted, eleven; employment secured, six; two city orders for groceries, $12.21; 320 articles of used clothing; rolls and bread donated by Mr. Russell of Glendale Bakery; five jars of fruit, two glasses of jelly, and an abundance of staple groceries distributed among needy families.

Money Disbursements
 Money disbursements were fifteen checks for relief, $136; for nursing, $10; general clinic for antitoxin, $5; for used food, $5; groceries, $4.75.

In making these reports the board of directors heartily thank organizations, churches and private individuals who have assisted the council in relief work.

Mrs. Card announces that any one hearing of people needing assistance, telephone to any member of the Welfare board.

OBJECTIONS ARE MADE BY PLAYERS

Theatre Musicians Contend Mission Play Orchestra Cannot Appear

John Steven McGroarty is having some difficulty in having his "Mission Play" musicians participate in his presentation in San Francisco of his famous "Mission Play," according to reports from the northern city.

Reports state that Mr. McGroarty has been in controversy with the San Francisco musicians' union, owing to his refusal to engage the Columbia theatre's orchestra, in addition to the "Mission Play" musicians.

The "Mission Play" is to be put on at the Columbia theatre, and it seems that the musicians' union contemplated that under the understanding now existing, only grand opera companies and minstrel shows shall carry their own orchestras, which barred the "Mission Play" musicians.

His Players Union
 On the other hand, Mr. McGroarty claimed that his own orchestra is a union organization; that the Columbia orchestra is unacquainted with the music and cues, and that 75 per cent of the actors in the play are amateurs.

However, another report states that the union and producer compromised by having the Columbia orchestra "sit in" with the "Mission Play" orchestra for the overture the first night. Later Mr. McGroarty was to take the matter up with the union.

Burglars Break Into Two Glendale Homes

Burglars forced an entrance into the residence of V. E. Philip, 221 North Orange street yesterday afternoon by jimmying a rear window. A small Toledo safe in the house was opened with a chisel. The amount of the loss is not yet known. A complete list of articles missing will be handed in to the police today. The residence of M. N. Parks, 210 Burchett street, was entered last night. The thieves opened the rear door with a passkey. The value of articles taken was not determined last night, and will not be known until later today.

Average loads of railway coaches are 14 passengers, and of sleeping cars 11.

MEMBERS ELECT NEW REGENT FOR D. A. R. CHAPTER

Miss Ida D. Myers Is Chosen President of Local Branch Yesterday

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
 Of The Evening News Staff.
 General Richard Gridley chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, meeting yesterday afternoon at the First Congregational church, paid honor to Miss Ida D. Myers of 1203 South Central avenue, by unanimously electing her regent for the coming year.

The many friends of Miss Myers in Glendale and in state and national D. A. R. organizations will receive this announcement with great happiness, for she is a woman of charming personality and rare capability, which have made her a valued member of many organizations and loyal resident of Glendale.

In addition to being a member and first vice-regent of the D. A. R. chapter, Miss Myers has served during the past year as curator of the American citizenship and legislation department of the Tuesday Afternoon club, and as corresponding secretary of the Glendale College Women's club, of which she is a charter member.

State Official
 She has also had the state and national honor of being state chairman of conservation and thrift for the California D. A. R., and the original and complete reports she has submitted have received mention at the national congress in Washington, D. C.

Other officers elected yesterday were Mrs. S. C. Lippel, first vice-regent; Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, second vice-regent; Miss Hazel White, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. A. Crawford, recording secretary; Mrs. W. G. Lyman, treasurer; Mrs. E. W. W. Haycraft, chairman; Mrs. Kennedy, historian.

Miss Myers will be the third regent of the chapter, the other two being Mrs. Mary Howard Gridley Braly, deceased, who was organizing regent for years ago, and served till the time of her death, a year ago; and Mrs. C. W. Houston, retiring regent, who has served most faithfully and efficiently during the past year.

Baroness Speaks
 Combining the spirit of patriotism, so dominant in D. A. R. affairs, with the celebration of National Music Week, the program yesterday was featured by an address by Baroness Ottilie De Ropp of Glendale, and piano numbers by Alma Geiger Phelps, also of Glendale.

Special guests were Mrs. J. C. Shedd, regent, and a group of members of San Rafael Hills chapter, D. A. R., of Eagle Rock. Mrs. C. W. Houston was in charge of the program, which opened with the reading of the D. A. R. ritual.

Later announcements were made of an invitation from the Eschscholtz chapter of Los Angeles, to the unveiling of the United States and Spanish shields and commemorative tablet Wednesday, May 21, at Memory Gardens opposite the old mission at San Fernando.

Reciprocity Tea
 Mrs. Houston also announced the reciprocity tea to take place Tuesday, May 20, at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles, honoring Mrs. Lyman G. Stookey, past state regent, who is returning from attending the national congress in

Says the old motto: "Heaven the country, Christ the way."
But it is true that He who is the way is also the life into which the way leads; and Christ must be country as well as path.
—Phillips Brooks.

WHAT IS AN IDEALIST?

A National Woman's magazine is out with a lantern looking for an idealist who has some chance of being elected president of the United States. This magazine defines an idealist as one who favors a League of Nations, a man whom Woodrow Wilson would have chosen to carry on his work. "In other words," this editorial says, "Idealism means Wilson." One by one the candidates of both parties are eliminated. The anomalous argument is advanced that President Coolidge's increasing popularity over Hiram Johnson in the Republican party is due to Johnson's opposition to the League, and then Coolidge is at once eliminated as an idealist because he is known to be opposed to the League. William G. McAdoo and John W. Davis are thrown out because of "oil." And so on, until only Senator Carter Glass of Virginia is left. He is an idealist as defined by this magazine, and he cries easily. It is true that Senator Glass is spoken of very highly by men of both parties, and he would likely make a strong showing in the race for the presidency if nominated in the Democratic convention.

It is true that Woodrow Wilson was an idealist of the highest type, and the League of Nations as he and other great world leaders dreamed of it is indeed a great ideal. Washington, too, was a great idealist. He dreamed of independence for the colonists and fought for his ideal. Lincoln was an idealist and he effaced self completely in working for a united north and south without slavery. Roosevelt was a great idealist. A man can dream dreams and at the same time be a man of action, force and achievement.

Who can say that Calvin Coolidge is not an idealist? He has all the earmarks of a great man, although, of course, he has yet to prove himself. Every great man is an idealist. No man can accomplish great things without an ideal, without setting a goal for himself. Before any great thing can be achieved some one must envision it. No doubt, President Coolidge dreams dreams and sees visions like many others who have reached the same high position he occupies. But he will have to do more than dream if he measures up to his party's and his country's estimate of him. Thrust into the presidential chair at a moment's notice, he has conducted himself with dignity and distinction through many trying situations. He must be a man of high ideals. By all means give us an idealist for a president, but may he be a man of accomplishment too.

JUNE—THE MONTH OF BRIDES!

June will soon be here! Why is it that the very mention of the word June sends a sort of thrill over one? June—and the age-old story of love and mating. June brides, June honeymoons, golden nights of fragrant June.

While the minds of the young race impetuously ahead, those of the older wend slowly back along the sweet-scented paths of memory. Ah, the beautiful things of yesteryear, that come never again! One could almost become a poet, thinking of June.

But hush! Around the corner, the ugly whisper of the cynic: "Oh, that sentimental bunk! Marriage is a failure and love a myth. Look at the papers, full of divorces."

And so on. You know, because you've heard him—or (shameful to admit) her—the cynic. Is marriage a failure? Well, then, all of life, from the cradle to the grave, is a failure as well, and the entire scheme of the universe one supreme mockery.

No, do not sneer at marriage, the culmination of love. True, it has to be strong enough to weather the storms of life, as well as the calms. It has its defects, as an institution, but most certainly it is not a failure. It has its flaws, to be sure, but it has its finer facets, too—noble, uplifting, inspiring things that come into the home and enrich life.

And never, never forget the babies, whose laughter strikes the golden note of all life, and the training aright of whose little footsteps constitutes mankind's supreme purpose, the perpetuation of life on this globe, with its evolution of ever higher types. No, marriage is not a failure. It is the sacred heritage each generation takes up from the one before, to "carry on" the race.

PRAISE FROM EUROPE

Criticism of America and American ideals by European countries, European writers and statesmen and by Europeans in general is so common and sometimes so bitter that tributes to America from across the water are welcome and refreshing.

Mr. Hilaire Belloc, English novelist and historian, says that Europe has wholly misunderstood the attitude of America as regards the worship of Mammon. He says that no modern society is so free from the idolatry of wealth as the American; that it is impossible for an American to respect a man of great wealth, solely because he is a man of great wealth, while in Europe the contrary is true. The conception that success in accumulation means effort on the part of any man, and that American opportunity should make this equally possible for any man, is responsible, Mr. Belloc thinks, for the idea that America worships wealth. The American people live in truth and are the happiest white people in the world because of this quality of candor, he tells us. And he says the essential mark of the American social spirit is publicity, the spirit of the market place.

Dr. John Kelman, Scotch clergyman, after five years in the United States, goes back to Scotland and says the American regulates his life very largely on great ideals. Dr. Frank Crane is one of the great spiritual leaders of America, Dr. Kelman tells his people.

SATISFIED CUSTOMER

The satisfied customer is one form of advertising. He is also a cheap form of advertising and the results are certain. But the satisfied customer merely comes back himself, or, possibly, brings a few with him, at best. If you will take what that satisfied customer says, put it into type, and broadcast it to the world, you will obtain much greater and much quicker results. Advertising, carefully analyzed, means this, and this only: "Carrying a message to many persons that something they want can be obtained at a certain place, that it is of a certain quality; and at a certain price." This is equally true whether it be a movie show attraction, a yard of red ribbon or an automobile, or a city.

Electrophotomicrography is a perfectly good word, and you'll find it in the dictionary. It is seldom used by poets, however.

Old John Jolt says: "The reason most humorists are sad is because they realize the enormity of their offense."

PRACTICING THE "KEYNOTE"

The Devil's Handicap

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The difficulty with a lie is that it does not fit. It not only does not fit the truth but it does not fit other lies. The excellence of truth is that it does fit.

An error is like a monkey wrench in the machinery.

The whole universe is a wonderful mechanism. Every law in it harmonizes with every other law; every force in it co-operates with every other force.

That is why this solid globe spins around the sun and keeps its orbital track to the nicety of a hair.

And what is true of matter is true of mind. That is the reason why William James' definition of truth is the best yet made:

"The truth is what will work."
The excellence of truth is that it leads to harmony. One truth is akin to all others. They are all members of the same living family and do not quarrel.

But when you get hold of a piece of nonsense, or of untruth, the more you hang onto it, the more entangled you become.

The first duty of man is not to believe; it is to find out what to believe; it is not to have faith; it is to know what to have faith in.

You may believe with all your heart and with true religious devotion that a bullet fired from a gun will not harm you, yet you will get killed just the same if somebody shoots you, and quite as effectively, as if you were an agnostic.

Every falsehood is very much like a disease germ; unless it is destroyed it will break out in some kind of sore. Retained in the system it invariably causes pain or weakness.

Faith is of no value as a substitute for truth; it is only good as a handmaiden to Truth; a follower and servant of Truth.

The devil always stumbles finally. He may run fast for a while and we may all imagine that he will win the race. But the truth is he does not belong in this world. He does not know the paths and pitfalls of the universe. By and by he falls. Only the honest mind and the good heart understand the world. They invariably succeed because every force in the universe is in co-operation with them. Their tragedy is only seeming. Their suffering is but temporary. Those who are half blind are those who believe that evil pays. But if a man's vision is clear and his judgment sound he will never doubt that the devil is fatally handicapped.

ALL SCRAPPED (From San Bernardino Sun)

There go the last of the regulations and limitations and bores that developed out of the excitement incident to the development of the dreaded foot-and-mouth disease in Southern California flocks and herds. San Bernardino seems to be the first county to get its "second wind." The supervisors, having opened the mountain roads and discontinued the quarantine conditions at the county boundaries earlier in the week, yesterday rescinded the effort to close the streams to sportsmen, and one may fish this morning without fear of embarrassment.

Even now there is no disposition to minimize the gravity of the situation or the extent of the danger that characterizes the proximity of this scourge. Nor are local authorities to be less than commended for doing what apparent (state) authorities had recommended elsewhere. The one error, perhaps, was that the state did not sooner surrender to the control and discretion of the Federal authorities, to whom the disease is not new, and who are familiar with the best and most scientific methods of combating it. The instant they were free to exert authority and make recommendations, they suggested that we quarantine against the public and expend our efforts in quarantining against the disease. But the simple truth is that we have been proceeding on the theory that every man and woman and moving thing is under suspicion of being a disease carrier.

Such ridiculous methods were invoked in the cases of contagious diseases that attack the human family, there would be no such thing as "business as usual," nor much of any other kind. The peculiar terrors that mark the foot and mouth disease are due to the fact that medical science is helpless to combat it. Not all animals die—not nearly all of them, according to the best authorities, although the effects are long continued. But, if animals do recover, it is just because they "get well," and not because of treatment. Doubtless it is a germ disease, as are other contagious, but chemistry has been unable to isolate it. The "bug" is evasive or elusive, even to the extent of filtering through pores of clothing and escaping. Until it is discovered and made the basis of a treatment, livestock cannot escape, once the animals are attacked. Hence the rule to slaughter infected animals. Hence, also, the reason for the most air-tight quarantine around the infection when it is discovered. But that does not mean to shut up everything and fumigate everybody elsewhere on suspicion.

Now if some genius will either convince the governor of Arizona of the error of his way or take him into the United States court, we will be headed back to saner methods and more peaceful days.

WAKING UP TO NEEDS (From The Fresno Republican)

Representatives of leading farm organizations in the United States are making another appeal to the government for relief to enable the farmers to secure some sort of financial stabilization.

They ask no favors, merely an equality of treatment. The remedy for present evils, they say in an open letter to President Coolidge, "rests in the application of effective protection to the products of the farm equally with those of other industries—the establishment of domestic markets for farm crops on an American basis, apart from world conditions, and to conform with like markets already provided for among the manufacturers and American labor."

Agricultural interests have suffered because of lack of organization. Individual appeals have been blown away as straws in the wind. On the other hand, industrial interests, through organized effort, have been able to put through the very things for themselves that the farmers need to stabilize their conditions.

At the present time there is an open fight in Congress, led by large eastern interests, to prevent the extension of a helping hand to the farmer. To combat this opposition the agricultural interests must be organized.

The open letter to President Coolidge indicates that at last the farmers are beginning to realize the necessity of this.

Little Studies —of— Human Nature

NOT FINISHING THE JOB

It is Human Nature to enter gaily and enthusiastically upon a new venture and then drop it when it becomes apparent that drudgery is necessary to complete the work, and drudgery is always necessary in achieving anything worth-while. We begin an undertaking with earnestness and zeal but our eagerness diminishes as the job begins to pall. The beginning is always easy. The end is hard. We start the day fresh and eager for the task before us. Before night the work becomes real toil. With what joy we enter the race! How tired we are before the goal is reached.

Campaign speakers are characterized Calvin Coolidge as the man who always finishes the job. They give instances to show that he has always been that way. It is one of the greatest compliments they can pay him.

A woman loved to do fine needlework and was never seen without a piece of embroidery work in her hands. After her death several trunks were found filled with pieces of linen of all kinds, sizes, shapes and colors, each with a partially-completed embroidered pattern or design upon it. Her work was exquisite but she had never finished anything. There was adventure in beginning but to complete one piece of work meant drudgery of which she was not capable. No doubt as she began each piece she saw the beauty of the finished work and meant to complete it. But she never did.

This is really a serious fault of old Human Nature, not finishing the job. It denotes a lack of responsibility of application to any task and means a waste of time, energy and money. And when we fall down on the job we miss that satisfaction that comes with work well done, a satisfaction nothing else can give us.

An old rhyme has it, "One thing at a time and that done well, is a very good rule as many can tell."

A business man says the young people of today have this failing. They lose their enthusiasm before the job is completed. They seem to be eager for work but as soon as they see there is no immediate prospect of taking over the presidency of the company, that months of hard work are necessary before they can win any post of consequence in the business they lose heart and seem unable to follow an ordinary day's routine through to the finish.

There is no character builder like having a hard job and carrying it through to the end. A thing worth doing is worth doing well," is true and might be paraphrased to read, "A thing worth beginning is worth completing."

A Thought That Came Today

By HARVEY E. WESTGATE of Glendale

LOVE'S BATTLE CRY

Love serves us with the wine of hope,
Love speaks when hope has taken flight,
Love leads when hate and anger grope,
Love stands on guard the darkest night;
Love comes at will, from friend or foe,
Love points the way when all is lost,
Love knows no barriers, high or low,
Love never halts to count the cost.

Though anger walk throughout the world,
And hate upon each crest doth ride,
I see at last a flag unfurled
That shall forever there abide.

Though wars descend and greed doth jeer,
Though baser passions rule the day,
Throughout shall Love be standing near,
And show at last the only way.

Silent her march and slow her pace,
As hate and envy seem to reign,
But still she plants in breast and face
A seed of Love to bloom again;

Trampled and torn the fields she knows,
And red the seas with human blood,
Shattered and mangled, on she goes
To point the way in calm or flood.

A million years, perhaps, or more,
'Til comes the victory she shall win,
But through the strife and battle's roar
She'll lead, at last, her colors in;

For in the soul of every man,
Though hate may hold him in her sway,
There lives a seed to bloom again
When Love goes marching on her way.

The After House

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

THE STORY

DR. RALPH LESLIE, just graduated from medical college, ships on the yacht Ella as deck steward. He is penniless and thinks this will be a good opportunity to recuperate from an attack of typhoid fever. Marshall Turner is the owner. His wife, her sister Elsa, a divorcee named Mrs. Johns, and a man named Vail are the passengers. Turner is dissipated and evidently jealous of his wife and Vail. There is a crew of fourteen, including the stewardess, a maid, the cook and Williams, the butler. Charlie Jones, a German sailor with a bent for religion, is friendly to Leslie. Captain Richardson and Turner have an argument over running the ship. Turner, drunk, appoints Singleton captain. Richardson knocks Singleton down and threatens to put Turner in irons if he interferes with the running of the boat. Mrs. Johns asks Leslie to sleep near the passengers' staterooms, in a pantry, as she is afraid of trouble. One night Schwartz, the second mate, disappears overboard, though nobody sees him jump. On the night of August 12 Leslie wakes in the pantry to find himself locked in. Vail, Captain Richardson and the maid, Karen, are murdered with an axe. The men put Leslie in charge, and they decide to head back to port. The axe is found where it was flung into the stewardess's berth. She says that Karen had been roused by a bell in the night, she thought Mrs. Turner's, but Mrs. Turner says she did not ring. Karen told the stewardess she thought Turner, who had annoyed her, was outside the door. She opened the door, screamed and fell dead. Mrs. Sloane said she saw a figure in white in the door throw the axe toward her. The crew imprisons Singleton. Leslie hopes to share responsibility for keeping up discipline. They lock the axe in the captain's cabin and Leslie takes the key. The other key, the one to the pantry, has not been found. "Find that and you will find the man who locked you in," says Elsa. They put the bodies in a lifeboat. Leslie and Elsa find that the bell that called Karen registered Vail's room. Leslie sees Elsa pick up a key in Turner's room. Turner gets delirium tremens and raves about Vail. Elsa tries to throw the pantry key into the sea, but Leslie sees her and she gives it to him. At night Adams, in the crew's nest, says he has seen a white figure crawling along the deck. He hurled down a marlinespike, which disappeared.

XVII—THE MARLINESPIKE

I went down cautiously, and struck a match where Adams had indicated the spike. It was not there. Nor had Burns picked it up. A splintered board showed where it had struck, and a smaller indentation where it had rebounded, but the marlinespike was gone, and Burns had not seen it. We got a lantern and searched systematically, without result. Burns turned to me a face ghastly in the oil light.

"Somebody has it," he said, "and there will be more murder! Oh, my God, what shall we do?"

"When you went back after the alarm, did you count the men?"

"No; Oleson said no one had come forward. They could not have passed without his seeing them. He has the binnacle lantern and two other lights."

"And no one came from the after house?"

"No one."

Eight bells rang out sharply. The watch changed. I took the revolver and Burns went aft. He lined up the men by the binnacle light, and went over them carefully. The marlinespike was not found; but he took from the cook a long meat-knife, and brought both negro and knife forward to me. The man was almost collapsing with terror. He maintained that he had taken the knife for self-protection, and we let him go with a warning.

Dawn brought me an hour's sleep, the first since my awakening in the storeroom. When I roused, Jones at the wheel had thrown an extra blanket over me, for the morning was cool and a fine rain was falling.

The men were scattered around in attitudes of dejection, one or two of them leaning over the rail, watching the jolly-boat, riding easily behind us.

Jones heard me moving, and turned.

"Your friend below must be pretty bad, sir," he said. "Your lady-love has been asking for you. I wouldn't let them wake you."

"My—what?"

He hazarded an apology at once.

"That's just my foolishness, Leslie," he said. "Next respect to the lady, I'm sure. If it ain't so, it ain't, and no harm done. If it is so, why, you needn't be ashamed, boy. The way of a man with a maid, says the book."

"You should have called me Jones," I said sharply. "And no nonsense of that sort with the men."

He looked hurt, but made no reply beyond touching his cap. And, while I am mentioning that, I may speak of the changed attitude of the men toward me from the time they put me in charge.

Whether the deference was to the office rather than the man, or whether in placing me in authority they had merely expressed a general feeling that I was with them rather than of them, I do not know. I am inclined to think the former.

The rest, in any case, was the same. They deferred to me whenever possible, brought large and small issues alike to me, served me my food alone, against my protestations, and, while navigating the ship on their own responsibility, took care to come to me for authority for everything.

Before I went below that morning, I suggested that some of the spare canvas be used to erect a shelter on the after deck, and this was done. The rain by that time was driving steadily—a summer rain without wind. The men seemed glad to have occupation, and, from that time on, the tent which they erected over the hatchway aft of the wheel was their living and eating quarters. It added something to their comfort; I was not so certain that it added to their security.

Turner was violent that day. I found all four women awake and dressed, and Mrs. Turner, whose hour it was on duty, in a chair outside the door. The stewardess, her arm in a sling, was making tea over a spirit lamp, and Elsa was helping her. Mrs. Johns was stretched on a divan, and on the table lay a small revolver.

Clearly, Elsa had told the incident of the key. I felt at once the atmosphere of antagonism. Mrs. Johns watched me coolly from under lowered eyelids. The stewardess openly scowled. And Mrs. Turner rose hastily, and glanced at Mrs. Johns, as if in doubt. Elsa had her back to me, and was busy with the cups.

"I'm afraid you've had a bad night," I said.

"A very bad night," Mrs. Turner replied stiffly.

"Delirium?"

"Very marked. He has talked of a white figure—we cannot quite make it out. It seems to be William—Mr. Vail."

She had opened the door, but stood, nervously twisting her fingers, before it.

"Did she have no effect?"

She glanced helplessly at the others. "None," she said, after a moment.

Elsa Lee wheeled suddenly and glanced scornfully at her sister.

"Why don't you tell him?" she demanded. "Why don't you say you didn't give the bromides?"

"Why not?"

Mrs. Johns raised herself on her elbow and looked at me.

"Why should we?" she asked. "How do we know what you are giving him? You are not friendly to him or to us. We know what you are trying to do—you are trying to save yourself, at any cost. You put up guards at the companionway. You rail off the deck for our safety. You drop the store-room key in Mr. Turner's cabin, where Elsa will find it, and will be obliged to acknowledge she found it, and then take it from her by force, so you can show it later on and save yourself!"

Elsa turned on her quickly. "I told you how he got it, Adele. I tried to throw it overboard."

"Oh, if you intend to protect him!"

"I am rather bewildered," I said slowly; "but under the circumstances, I suppose you do not wish me to look after Mr. Turner?"

"Yes, think not!" from Mrs. Turner.

"How will you manage alone?"

Mrs. Johns got up and lounged to the table. She wore a long satin negligee of some sort, draped with lace. It lay around her on the floor in gleaming lines of soft blue. Her reddish hair was long on her neck, and she held a cigarette, negligently, in her teeth. All the women smoked.

Mrs. Johns incessantly.

She laid one hand lightly on the revolver, and flicked the ash from her cigarette with the other.

"We have decided," she said insolently, "that if the crew may establish a dead-line, so may we. One dead-line is the arrangement of the companionway. One of us will be on watch always. I am an excellent shot."

"I do not doubt it," I faced her. "I'm afraid you will suit for air; otherwise, the arrangement is good. You relieve me of part of the responsibility for your safety. Tom will bring your food to the steps and leave it there."

"Thank you."

"With good luck, two weeks will see us in port, and then—"

"To port! You are taking us back?"

"Why not?"

She picked up the revolver and examined it absently. Then she glanced at me, and shrugged her shoulders. "How can we know? Perhaps this is a mutiny, and you are on your way to some godforsaken island. That's the usual thing among pirates, isn't it?"

"I have no answer to that, Mrs. Johns," I said quietly, and turned to where Elsa sat.

"I shall not come back unless you send for me," I said. "But I want you to know that my one object in life from now on is to get you back safely to land; that your safety comes first, and that the vigilance on deck in your interest will not be relaxed."

"Fine words," the stewardess muttered.

The low mumble from Turner's room had persisted steadily. Now it rose again in the sharp frenzy that had characterized it through the long night.

"Don't look at me like that, man!" he cried, and then, "I've lost a hand! A hand!"

Mrs. Turner went quickly into the cabin, and the sounds ceased. I looked at Elsa, but she avoided my eyes. I turned heavily and went up the companionway.

It rained heavily all that day. Late in the afternoon we got some wind, and all hands turned out to trim sail. Action was a relief, and the weather suited our disheartened state better than had the pitiless August sun, the glaring white of deck and canvas, and the heat.

The heavy drops splashed and broke on top of the jolly-boat, and, as the wind came up, it rode behind us like a live thing.

Our distress signal hung sullen, too wet to give more than a dejected response to the wind that tugged at it. Late in the afternoon we sighted a large steamer, and when, as darkness came on, she showed no indication of changing her course, Burns and I sent up a rocket and blew the foghorn steadily. She altered her course

PLAGUE MEASURE BEFORE COUNCIL

Emergency Ordinance Would Help to Check Spread Of Stock Scourge

An emergency ordinance, offered by Councilman C. E. Kilmartin at the regular meeting of the City Council this morning, conforming with the state and county quarantine laws enacted to prevent the spread of the hoof and mouth disease, was, on the advice of Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, laid over for one week before being adopted.

The city ordinance is practically a copy of the county law, and was offered with a view to making it an offense punishable in police court to break any of the state or county regulations. As outlined in The Glendale Evening News several days ago it prohibits the transportation of all animals, including dogs, in automobiles without permits, and the staking out of cows and other cloven hoof animals on empty lots. The enactment of the ordinance, if adopted, will do away with any technicality that might arise over jurisdiction of certain courts.

Permit for Show
Murphy's comedians were granted a license to conduct their tent show on North Brand boulevard for ten days, by unanimous vote of the council.

Harry W. Chase appeared before the council on behalf of C. R. Bowman and R. Smith, protesting against assessments made against their property in connection with the opening of Mariposa street. His clients, he stated, were of the opinion that they were called upon to pay more than their proportionate share of the improvement. The hearing was continued for one week, and the city engineer was instructed to review the case in the meantime.

Bids Are Opened
Bids for the improvement of Cleveland road, from Kenneth to Matilija, and Monterey and Adams street were opened and referred to the city engineer for checking and report.

The new city plumbing ordinance, which deals with technical questions of installation rather than license fees, was adopted on

Historic Tapestries Bought by Valentino

NEW YORK, May 8.—Rolph Valentino was one of the buyers at the sale of the Bengali collection of velvets, tapestries and embroideries recently. He paid $105 for an eighteenth century Moorish drape d'or crimson scarf or runner in rose-crimson, its ends woven in varied gold, blue, green and crimson stripes, 16 feet 8 inches long by 19 inches wide. He also bought for $110 a seventeenth century Albanian gold embroidered crimson velvet coat, with frontal panels of gold scrolling and the back with chevroned stripes in silver bordered in gold.

Following the open meeting, the council adjourned to committee of the whole to discuss certain phases of the granting of a permit to the tent show on North Brand, which, it is rumored, various other amusement enterprises are protesting.

Says School Teacher Had Big Stock Deals

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 8.—How Samuel Bauer, while principal of a public school here, "played the stock market" and was able to make bank deposits as high as $100,000 at a time, was revealed in testimony before Probate Judge William H. Leuders.

Traffic Regulations In Spain Are Changed

MADRID, May 8.—The rule of "turn to the right" was put into effect for vehicular traffic in Madrid recently. So far as could be observed the change from the former turn to the left caused little confusion in traffic, drivers of automobiles and carriages complying with the new regulations without difficulty.

SHRINE FETE TO RIVAL GLORY OF EGYPTIAN TIMES

Members of Many Temples
Meet at Kansas City
For Convention

By W. F. SULLIVAN
For International News Service.
KANSAS CITY, May 8.—Old Glory will fly above all, but beneath its majestic folds will fly flags of brilliant colors; beautiful pendants will be suspended everywhere, and bright, gaudy bunting will drape buildings on all sides when the city "dresses up" in all its splendor to welcome 100,000 visitors to the local shrine at the national Shriner's convention on June 3, 4 and 5.

The entire city will resemble a miniature Egypt and go back to the age when splendor and beauty predominated and that which was not beautiful was not worth while. Bright-colored lights of various hues will illuminate the city for the night spectacle. A color scheme of red, yellow and green will predominate in the decorations and lighting plans, in keeping with the Shrine's adopted colors.

Gala Spectacle
The Shrine convention decorations and illuminations subcommittee is aiming to give as artistic touch to its work that will exceed in novelty and boldness anything of this nature ever attempted anywhere.

The three-day festival of the Shriner's of the country will be an impressive one, replete with massed music, kaleidoscopic parades and pageants. The decorative plans now nearing completion include a novel idea for pendant display. Under the plan huge pendants, made of a patented wall cloth, two sheets sewn together, stiffened by rods, would be hung from incandescent lamp-lined wires stretched across the streets from trolley poles.

A brilliant-hued scroll of wings, a vari-colored sphinx and a red-and-yellow Heart of America and Shrine emblem will be the figures painted on both sides of the pendants in oil colors.

Above this will be strung incandescent lamps in series of three, each color separated from its adjacent one by a red fez.

Sphinxes on Guard
Arriving visitors at the Union station will feast their eyes on a huge obelisk, forty-six feet high, changing colors constantly. Green will merge into yellow, the yellow into red. Six huge sphinxes will guard the obelisk.

At each end of the plaza will be placed groups of four Egyptian columns, thirty feet high, painted in red, yellow and green at the base and head. Palm trees will dot imaginary desert sands.

Rivers of Color
The streets will be made to resemble red, yellow and green rivers. At each intersection will be erected Egyptian columns, twenty-four feet high, and sphinxes in seven colors will be stationed at intervals.

To illuminate the city at night, under present plans of the committee, 50,000 incandescent lamps of varied hues will be used. The cost of the elaborate decorations, it is estimated, will exceed $500,000.

100 Temples Coming
About 100 temples are expected to send their bands and patrols, which would make a parade equal to an army division.

The local committee is anticipating a record attendance and has 7000 rooms under contract to provide quarters for the visitors. About 75 per cent of the visiting Shriner's will bring their wives and other relatives, it is estimated.

The Shrine now has 543,000 members, in 155 temples in the United States. Medina Temple, of Chicago, is the largest, with 21,052 members. Other large temples are:

Syria, Pittsburgh, 16,377; Lulu, Philadelphia, 15,628; Aleppo, Boston, 14,495; Mecca, New York, 11,875; Murat, Indianapolis, 9,679; Moslem, Detroit, 9,617; and Islam, San Francisco, 9,435.

Clock Is Calendar as Well as Chronometer

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 8.—H. B. Azandian, No. 241 West Adams street, has completed a special clock which gives the time in hours, minutes and seconds, and also the day of the week, month, date, year and phases of the moon. It took nine months of spare time work at night to finish the timepiece. One of the disks on the clock, governing the days of the month, makes but one revolution in four years. So accurate is it that Leap Year is recorded, and the following year, without adjustment, it will move from February 28 to March 1.

Largest Church Bell In Germany Finished

WEIMAR, Germany, May 8.—Completion recently of Germany's largest church bell has brought about much discord in certain political circles. The monarchists insist upon calling it the "kaiser's bell," while the republicans have given it the name of "the bell of the Rhine." The bell was cast here for the famous Cathedral of Cologne, but there have been repeated delays in shipment, according to German authorities, because it was feared it might be confiscated by the French.

Reward Hero

KAICHIRO YONEMURA, who has been awarded for his excellent work in flashing the news of the Japanese quake.

The Radio Corporation of America Medal, which carries with it an honorarium of $500, has been awarded to Kaichiro Yonemura, superintendent of the Iwaki radio station at Tomioka, Japan for his prompt work in flashing the news of the Japanese earthquake to the world. He signaled San Francisco direct after all other forms of communication proved unavailing.

SCRAPS ARE WEAK
PITTSBURGH, May 8.—Iron and steel scrap are almost lifeless, consumptive as well as speculative demand being absent. Small lot sales are noted, but the aggregate is not sufficiently large to be of interest.

TREE CLIMBING FISH IS OBJECT OF LATEST TRIP

Chicago Party to Start on July 4; Route Is Down River to Ocean

By OWEN L. SCOTT
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924
CHICAGO, May 8.—Not gold nor gems, but tree climbing fish and a trade route to the South Seas are the lures that have stirred inland Chicago to recruit her first sea adventurers, who set forth this summer on their unique quest.

Never before has a ship sailed from a Great Lakes port for New Orleans, the Panama canal and the open sea. But, drawn irresistibly by the call of the tree climbing fish, the ship will try it within the next weeks, blazing a trail through the Chicago drainage canal and down the Illinois and Mississippi rivers to the ocean. Then! For the land of the climbing fish.

"We're going to bring back for the Chicago aquarium something that will make people open their eyes," says William Hale Thompson, former mayor, who is interested in the venture to the extent of $25,000. "This fish we're after, when it gets hungry, comes out of the water, gambols on the sand, climbs trees for bugs, jumps three or four feet for grasshoppers and eats butterflies for dessert."

Says That's True
Not only the ex-mayor but zoologists at the University of Chicago vouch for the existence of the tree climbing fish. Captain A. J. Duken, who is to command the vessel that sets sail July 4 for the South Seas, has seen them. He described the fish as being "six to fourteen inches long—with scales, but with apparatus to breathe air."

Former Mayor Thompson, however, takes a broader view of the expedition than that to carry four Chicago adventurers 14,000 miles from home to the Malay archipelago, traveling all the distance in a 68-foot sail boat.

"We're out for the fish all right, but at the same time want to show Chicago traders that they have a route to the sea and to new markets," he said. "The Panama canal put the middle west a thousand miles further away from eastern markets—it showed the absolute necessity of a direct route to world ports. Captain Duken and his crew will sail the first boat through the navigable Illinois river and the Mississippi to New Orleans. It will show what can be done."

Picnic at Dock
"There's going to be a big celebration and picnic to 5,000 people July 4, the sailing date. Let the people know you're out after tree climbing fish and they'll be there to see the ship on its way. Tell them you're going after trade and nobody would know the difference—you wouldn't get anything. We expect a crowd of 100,000 to watch the boat set out."

Captain Duken, who has just about finished building his boat, says it will be christened on Decoration day. He is to have a crew of three men besides himself—a moving picture camera operator, taxidermist and newspaper man. These four will sail the craft to the South Seas, where a Malay crew will be recruited to relieve the captain and his men for shore duty.

The movie man is to take motion pictures of the tree climbing fish, the taxidermist is to mount and preserve live ones, while the newspaper man is scheduled to tell the world about the findings. Except for the newspaper man the crew has been recruited.

TEXAS IN LEAD

Regarded as an authentic record upon which the statement is based, a report of the number of income taxes transferred to Los Angeles from other internal revenue districts during the last year, shows that the state of Texas now leads in furnishing new residents to Southern California, according to the collector in charge, Goodell. Prior to the publication of this record, it has frequently been stated that Iowa leads all other states in building up the population. Illinois, Washington, Colorado and New York now lead over Iowa.

CHARGE EMBEZZLEMENT

LONG BEACH, May 8.—J. H. Hulme, bank employee of this city, is to be given a hearing before United States Commissioner Long on an indictment returned at Abilene, Texas, charging him with embezzlement of $19,000 from a Cross Plans, Tex., bank. Officials of the bank here have signed a $100,000 bond for Hulme. The latter has announced he will not fight removal proceedings.

2 Million Silkworm Eggs From Abroad Will Be Incubated

OROVILLE, Cal., May 8.—Incubation of more than 2,000,000 silkworm eggs just received from France and Italy will be started this week at the Sericulture Silk Farm.

In preparation for the enormous number of silk worms soon to be hatched, 25,000 additional mulberry trees have been planted and the nursery stock of mulberries has been increased by 250,000.

It is expected this year to establish the silk industry commercially.

PHONE OPERATOR WARNS OF BLAZE

Quick Action In Turning In Fire Alarm Prevents Spread of Flames

TUJUNGA, May 8.—Expeditions and intelligent action on the part of a night telephone operator in spreading a fire alarm and prompt response by volunteer firemen saved a block of five business houses on Sunset boulevard from destruction early Wednesday morning when a fire broke out in the Sunset Fair, a dry goods store.

The origin of the fire was not determined, but it is believed to have started from an electric iron that had been in use during the evening. At 2:15 in the morning someone discovered the smoke pouring from the wooden building and notified Miss Thompson, night operator for the Sunland Telephone company. She promptly began calling the numbers of residents who live nearest the place of the fire and had succeeded in arousing several before the general alarm was sounded on the bell at the Community church. As a result the fire was under control before fire fighters living at more distant points could respond and the damage confined to the one building.

Save Nearby Stores
Next to the drygoods store are a tailor shop, printing office, electric shop and undertaking parlor. All are wooden buildings. The firemen, realizing that if the fire gained any headway the whole row would be doomed, chopped their way through the roof and attacked the blaze from above, effectively smothering it and saving most of the stock of the store. One rack of dresses was burned and some damage done by smoke and water. The exact extent of the damage could not be determined until the stock had been checked.

The proprietor stated that, while he had no idea how the fire started, he did not believe the electric iron was the cause of it.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB STAGES CONCERT

Annual Tradition Will Be Observed Tonight at College Function

EAGLE ROCK, May 8.—The annual tradition of the "Home Concert" of the Men's Glee Club will be observed tonight at Occidental college.

The general public as well as the student body look forward to this event as one of the most interesting entertainments given at the college. To many this will be the only opportunity to hear the well known organization, the most of their concerts have been given out of the city, the men having just returned from a successful tour of the northern part of the state, where they gave fifteen concerts in various clubs, churches and schools.

Special Artists
The club has been under the direction of Harold McCall, a graduate of Occidental who was soloist and president of the Glee Club, while in college, and from advance reports a very fine entertainment is in store for the friends of Occidental. The club is very fortunate in having a number of special artists to assist in the program, among whom are several foreign students, who add a cosmopolitan flavor to the program by giving some of their native songs. Two Eagle Rock boys are on the program for solo work, Claire Herbert, and Robert Taylor, who is also manager of the club, sings a popular lyric song.

The humor necessary to a program of this nature is amply supplied by the famous "Porky and Perky," the ton of fun.

AUTO SHOW GAMES

DETROIT, May 8.—Production figures for April of the various automobile companies show a healthy volume of business despite curtailment. Dodge Brothers produced 21,838 cars in April, compared with 21,438 in March; Hudson 15,327 as against 14,672 in March and Chevrolet 30,000 as compared with 45,000 the previous month. Paige Detroit output was 33,000 last month, a drop of 1700 from March. The Hup figures were 3,260 as compared with 3,943, while Studebaker made 14,875 or 375 more than in March. General business in Detroit shows a slowing down, but conditions are very spotty.

Plows with shares shaped like ship propellers and attached to tractors are being used.

NAME COMMITTEE ON NOMINATIONS

Election of P.-T. A. Officers Interests Members of the Association

BURBANK, May 8.—The Parent-Teacher association of the Thomas A. Edison school has named the following nominating committee for the June election: L. F. Collins, school superintendent, and Mrs. Kuykendall and Mrs. Ferguson.

The association will send eight delegates to the twenty-fifth annual P.-T. A. convention, to be held at Pasadena from May 20 to 23, it was decided.

Summer Vacation
At the last meeting Superintendent Collins talked on "The Summer Vacation," telling the need of a summer school for pupils who have failed, or who have been away from school on account of sickness, and of the number of children saved from failure by attending the summer school. He spoke of the summer playground as the means of building a child's character and causing less juvenile court cases. Mrs. Dorr was also called upon to speak of summer playgrounds, as she has had considerable experience along those lines. Mrs. Dorr spoke clearly and definitely on the actual need of a playground during vacation, declaring that ten weeks' vacation with nothing for the child to do, and no supervision to watch them, causes bad habits to be cultivated by the child which may mar its future. Both talks were well received by the audience.

Read this paragraph from The Long Beach Press and then take heart:
"Portions of California are having their baptism of misfortune because of the animal plague. But the shadows of adversity will pass away, as the clouds roll by. California will not be seriously crippled. Its future prosperity is assured by its courage and resourcefulness of its people and its almost boundless resources are guaranty that California is destined to move onward and upward, in phenomenal economic advancement."

CHOIRS TO GIVE SONGS OF DIXIE

Evangelist Gives Answers
To Questions Asked
Before Services

The outstanding question taken up by Miss Stockton, evangelist, at "Question Night" last night at the Baptist church, was "If the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the sinner and the ungodly appear?"

Possessing keen power of illustration, Miss Stockton thrilled her audience with the vividness of her word pictures. Without dodging the question of where the sinner will appear, she gave more attention to the development of where he will not appear, such as in company with the saved ones in the resurrection, with those who belong to Christ when He shall appear again on the earth, and with those who will live in the new Jerusalem.

Attacks Movies
Her subject was "A Startling Question." In answering the question, "Should Christian people attend the movies?" she said: "We should do all that we can to make the movies what they ought to be, but until they are better than at present, a Christian would do well to give but little time and money to their support."

Tonight the choir will sing songs of "Dixie" under the direction of Miss Gould.

GRADUATES WILL HOLD EXERCISES

Occidental Commencement Brings Sheepskins to Class of 1924

The graduating class of Occidental will hold its thirty-second annual Commencement Exercises Saturday, June 14. Seventy-four members of the Class of '24 will receive their diplomas on this day. The student speakers for the occasion have been selected. The honor of valedictorian is awarded to Edward Jones, who stands highest in scholarship in the class for the entire four years. Thurston Harshman, the editor-in-chief of the "Occidental," the college newspaper, will also speak. Miss Katherine Meese of Pasadena was chosen salutatorian for the commencement program because of her high standing in scholarship during her college career. The fourth speaker will be Miss Beth Dean, prominent senior, who has served Occidental faithfully since her entrance in the institution.

Germans Will Issue New Silver Coinage

BERLIN, May 8.—Real hard cash will shortly be reintroduced in Germany. The German mints are preparing to issue about fifty million gold marks' worth of one, three and five-mark silver coins. An equivalent amount of paper notes will be withdrawn from circulation or speculation. Pre-war silver coins will remain out of use.

Jungle Beasts' Skins To Trim Women's Hats

LONDON, May 8.—Having exploited flowers, birds and bugs, women are now turning their attention to beasts of the jungle for military trimmings. Latest creations show hats trimmed with whole real snake skins, bands of leopard skin and "best cuts" from the skin of the lion.

COMMENT That's All

About Traffic Conditions
Seem Satisfied To Kill
Glendale Has Its Problems
Share Your Good Fortune

By Gil A. Cowan

Captain Cleveland R. Heath of the Los Angeles traffic bureau, on his return from the east, announced that traffic conditions are worse here than elsewhere.

All we have to say is that he did not need go east to learn that. Traffic conditions in Los Angeles and its environs are unbearable. There is only one redeeming feature. The people seem satisfied to let them continue with many killed and maimed each week as the price of procrastination in the matter of planning.

Glendale has its own traffic problems, the principal being good streets for alternative routes for motorists. There was a day when it was desired by merchants that all residents be forced to use the "main street" of the town. That day is past. More thoroughfares are needed in Glendale and every other town.

Read this paragraph from The Long Beach Press and then take heart:
"Portions of California are having their baptism of misfortune because of the animal plague. But the shadows of adversity will pass away, as the clouds roll by. California will not be seriously crippled. Its future prosperity is assured by its courage and resourcefulness of its people and its almost boundless resources are guaranty that California is destined to move onward and upward, in phenomenal economic advancement."

Those are the words of a thinker, but how many stop to think of the good and evil in things, only as they strike home? If you are one who has suffered from the foot-and-mouth disease, there is no doubt but what the clouds will not be brushed away so easily. But if you are prospering, share your good fortune with others.

K. C. DELEGATES VISIT GLENDALE

Members of Local Council Will Attend New York
Meeting In August

The twenty-second annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus closed at Pasadena last night and many delegates returned to San Francisco and points north on the night train. Other delegates remained to spend the balance of the week visiting in the Southland and many will motor out to the Glendale clubhouse, council No. 1926, declares Francis Wallace, club manager.

The annual election took place yesterday afternoon and placed Judge Thomas T. White of Los Angeles in the position of state deputy, made Daniel Maher of San Francisco state secretary, William Ahern of Los Angeles, state warden, and re-elected Edward Kavanaugh of San Francisco as state treasurer.

Glendale as honored by the election of two members of Council No. 1926 delegates to the national convention at New York in August—Thomas A. Murphy and Frank O'Neill.

WOMEN EAGER TO SERVE ON JURIES

Majority Give Profession as 'Housewives' in Recent Pittsburgh Case

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 8.—Fifty names of women were among those of the 230 names on the list called for jury service in a recent common pleas court roll. Almost all of the women called for service were listed as housewives.

Court attaches declare the women seem willing to go on juries, as the experience appeals to them. Several "good women and true" have expressed their views of jury duty as a welcome deviation from household work and also as an opportunity to learn more of the functions of the courts.

Punished at School, Shoots Teacher, Self

PERGAMO, Italy, May 8.—Irritated by punishment inflicted upon him by Professor Mariano, Mario Riva, 17, waited in a side street and fired two shots at the professor and then committed suicide. Professor Mariano was only slightly injured. He explained that Riva had been suspended for writing unbecoming words on the wall of a composition. Riva left a letter stating that he had been falsely accused and imploring his mother to forgive him.

MEMBERS OF CLUB HONOR OFFICIALS

Past Presidents Are Special Guests at Luncheon;
Poetry Is Read

TUJUNGA, May 8.—Past presidents of the Tujunga Woman's club were honored at a luncheon given by the club in their temporary quarters in the Ashby building. Twenty-six members attended and paid tribute to the popularity of their past leaders.

The dining room was decorated in yellow and white, the tables being laid with yellow trailers and clusters of California poppies. An especially attractive table for the guests of honor was presided over by Mrs. Nelson E. Jones, present president of the club. A large cake bearing the initials of all the past presidents graced the center of this table.

Mrs. Mark White was hostess and was the first called upon for a speech. She responded poetically, as did the speakers who followed her.

"As we sat alone one morning, In the spring of '24, We thought of the presidents who served our club. In the early days of yore. It seemed to us the fitting thing Was to honor them one and all With flowers and cake, and flowers and friends."

Here in our dining hall. Our club is like the mighty oak, That from the acorn grew. For not a number of years ago, From the early numbers few.

We want to hear from those presidents dear, Who ruled both wise and well; And made it possible to build the Wherein our club will dwell.

The charter president, another state claims. But she keeps in touch with our club. And for awhile, at least to us she is lost. Old members will know we mean Mrs. Frost.

But she sends us a proxy, Whom everyone knows, For she carries sweet flowers. Her garden is full and abundant the yield. I am glad to introduce Mrs. Mary "Fairfield."

Check Is Given
Mrs. Fairfield responded by reading a telegram from Mrs. Frost. Mrs. Lewis, a sister of Mrs. Frost, was introduced and presented a check for the building fund from Mrs. Frost.

Mrs. L. May Deas was next to be called upon by Mrs. White and amused the guests with reminiscences of "Club Dishes." Mrs. Mendenhall, another early days president, was not able to attend, but sent Mrs. Lina Shumway as her proxy. Mrs. Shumway responded by reading a letter from the absent member.

Mrs. Warnick responded with a summing up of the growth of the club and the need for a permanent home. It was during her term of office that the building fund was started.

Introduces Mrs. Jones
Mrs. Guy Barry, president for the year of 1923, gave a brief talk on "The idea of being useful to somebody" and told of the advancement made when the club joined the Federation of Women's clubs during her term of office.

Mrs. White then introduced Mrs. Jones, incumbent. "The present club year is soon to close. But how proud we'll be. When on our lot a home will stand that all may plainly see. What we have accomplished so far this year. From our presiding president you shall hear. Among her members there are no drones. So give attention to Mrs. Jones."

Mrs. Jones paid tribute to the loyal efforts of Mrs. Dean in helping to hold the club together in the first year of organization, when there were but a dozen members. The president thanked the members for their co-operation and support in all things undertaken and outlined the plans for the new building, which has already been started.

Treasurer Reports
Mrs. Buck, treasurer, reported that there was $1539 in the treasury toward the club house fund. Mrs. White was assisted as hostess by Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Buck and Mrs. Francis. Ground has been broken for the foundation of the new club house for which the members have been working for a long time. Their efforts will soon be rewarded with a stucco bungalow that will comprise a social hall, dining room and kitchen. The property is located on San Ysidro street, near the building formerly known as Bolton hall, since changed to Legion hall, where the meetings were first held in the days when only a few houses were to be seen in the neighborhood which now is building into a flourishing business center.

EXECUTE PIRATES

HONGKONG, May 8.—Thirty-eight Chinese pirates who had been preying upon Chinese and foreign ships, robbing, killing and carrying away passengers for ransom, were executed by a firing squad at Hueng-Shan.

PLAGUE CLEARING

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—All of the "modified areas" in the state, with the exception of Butchertown, in San Francisco, today were removed from the hoof-and-mouth disease quarantine on instruction from Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace.

FLOWERS POPULAR

LONDON, May 8.—It is fashionable today to wear either real or artificial flowers. A woman in the Savoy ballroom recently carried a bouquet of real roses, each of which had an artificial dewdrop or crystal in its center.

TWO NEW STORES ADDED TO CITY

Business Section Growing
As Additional Firms
Open Place

TUJUNGA, May 8.—Two new stores opened their doors here the first of the week, both being backed by big companies.

The Toggery, one of the most up-to-date ladies' and men's furnishing stores in Tujunga, opened in the new brick building at Greeley and Sunset boulevards. It is one of a chain of stores operated by Louis and R. Abramowitz, two others having already been established, one at La Habra and one at San Fernando.

Celebrating the tenth year of successful operation of chain stores, Daley, Inc., opened the 120th store, in the same building with the Toggery. This gives Tujunga three stores operated by chain companies, the other being Seelig's, in addition to numerous independent stores operated by individuals.

The history of Daley's success reads like a fiction story. In 1911, Joe Daley was a law student at U. S. C., and was earning his living and paying his way through college by reporting for a Los Angeles newspaper. He took over the financially crippled Pacific Coast Mail Order House and worked three years to get the business on a paying basis. He then established his first store and since then has built up the business to where it is today.

Chairman Named for Better Homes Week

BURBANK, May 8.—Mrs. Walter C. Fisher of 1040 Elmwood avenue has been named local chairman of the Better Homes Week demonstrations, to be held from May 11 to 18, under the auspices of Better Homes of America, a national educational society whose president is Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and whose chairman of the advisory council is none other than President Calvin Coolidge.

"The American home is the foundation of our national and individual well being," says Mrs. Fisher. "Its steady improvement is at the same time a test of our civilization and of our ideals. We need attractive, worthy, permanent homes that lighten the burden of housekeeping. We need homes in which home life can reach its finest levels, and in which can be reared happy children and upright citizens, as President Coolidge declared, in commending participation in the coming home demonstrations."

Cigarette holders to be worn like rings have been introduced to prevent stains to smoker's fingers.

Society Plans to Entertain Mothers At Church May 11

Mothers' Day, May 11, will be observed by the Christian Endeavor society of the Tujunga Community church with a special program of recitation and music. Mothers and their friends will be the guests at the entertainment, which will be given in the afternoon.

In the evening, at 7 o'clock, delegates who attended the Christian Endeavor convention at Santa Monica will make their report. Following this, Rev. L. G. Granderson, assistant pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Manila, will give an address.

WOMEN TO ELECT CLUB'S OFFICERS

Annual Banquet to Be Held Tonight; Music Program
Will Be Rendered

EAGLE ROCK, May 8.—The Business and Professional Women's club will hold its annual banquet and election of officers at 7 o'clock tonight in the social hall at the rear of the Presbyterian church. The girl reserves will prepare and serve the banquet. Music will be furnished by the music section of the club and by the Presbyterian orchestra. Attendance is restricted to members only.

O. E. S. to Meet
The next regular meeting of the Eagle Rock chapter No. 318, Order of the Eastern Star, will be held May 13. This will be the official visit of the district deputy grand matron.

On May 15 the O. E. S. Circle No. 313 will meet at the home of Mrs. M. T. Lee, 5241 Shearin avenue at 12:30 o'clock, when a picnic lunch will be served. The Eagle Rock W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Hattie Merritt, 5062 La Roca avenue, Friday, May 9, at 2:30 p. m. There will be a parliamentary drill and reports from delegates to the county convention in Long Beach. Every one is welcome.

Tulare Quarantine Order Is Expected

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—An order placing Tulare county under rigid quarantine was expected from Governor Richardson today, following the discovery of two cases of foot-and-mouth disease in that county. Both of the infected ranches are near Visalia.

Rescue as Only One to Hear Signals

By L. C. OWEN
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—The thrill of picking up an SOS from a ship in distress was experienced twice last week-end by Pacific coast radio fans, and in one of the two cases an amateur destroyer with a home-made set gets credit for bringing about a rescue. S. W. Miller, an amateur radio fan of Berkeley, was tinkering with his home-made set Sunday night when he heard faintly the famous dot, dot, dash, dash, dash, dot, dot, dot, of the international distress signal.

Communicating by telephone with the coast guard station, Miller found he was the only one to comprehend the call, which had been flashed by a United States destroyer to summon aid for three fishermen in distress in a small boat between Golden Gate and Farallone islands. The coast guard men rushed to the rescue and brought the fishermen to safety.

Program Halted
The other instance of radio fans "picking up" a distress call, said to be the first instance of the kind on the Pacific coast, came Saturday night when thousands of fans were listening in on a radio concert.

Suddenly the dots and dashes began to click into the performance. Few of the listeners realized what they meant, however, until the announcers at the broadcasting stations announced "ship in distress somewhere in the Pacific sending S O S calls," and then suspended operations until the messages of distress had been cleared and ships started to the aid of the distressed vessel.

Ship on Rocks
It was the Associated Oil company tanker Frank H. Buck which had run hard aground on the jagged rocks of Point Pinos, near Monterey.

The Buck, one of the biggest tankers operating in the Pacific, got off her course while fighting a terrific northwest gale. Her crew was taken off, but the tanker probably will be a complete loss. When rescue ships had been started to the Buck's assistance the radio broadcasting stations came back on the air long enough to tell the fans all the facts about the accident.

GAS TAX AID IN UPKEEP OF ROADS

Fairest Means of Financing Construction Work, Is Marsh's Opinion

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—Gasoline taxation provides the fairest means of financing road construction in California today, said W. H. Marsh, chief of the state motor vehicle department, in making the statement that the tax in Arkansas is 4 cents per gallon instead of 2 cents per gallon as in California.

Taken in connection with Chairman Harvey M. Toy's recent utterance — that primary road construction must halt with the disbursement of the last $3,000,000 of highway bonds—it is believed that Marsh's statement is in advocacy of an increase in the present state gasoline tax of 2 cents per gallon.

The chief of the motor vehicle division further said that Arizona, Georgia, North Carolina, Oregon, South Carolina and Virginia have placed a gasoline tax of 3 cents. No Protests Filed

Marsh added that the motor vehicle department has not received one protest against the gasoline tax, although there are more than 1,000,000 motorists in California. Twenty-eight states devote gasoline tax receipts entirely to road purposes, it was said. Six states devote a portion to road work and North Dakota is an exception which provides that the entire gasoline tax be paid into general funds. Thirty-five states impose a gasoline tax.

State Treasurer C. G. Johnson on June 19 will offer for sale the final issue of highway bonds, totaling $3,000,000. When these bonds are sold, bonds aggregating $73,000,000 will have been devoted by the state to road construction, since the state highway program was inaugurated in 1910.

SAFE BACKING

For safe backing, especially at night, a lamp with a white light is advised. This can be mounted on a bracket and controlled by a cowl-board switch, or a special switch which automatically works with the gear-shift in reverse position.

Man with One Leg Can Get License If Able to Drive

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—"If a man with one leg—or no legs at all—can demonstrate his ability to drive as good as a physically sound person I believe he should be given a license," today said Will H. Marsh, chief of the division of motor vehicles, in discussing issuance of drivers' licenses.

"It has come to my attention that there are many persons driving cars who are partially disabled physically. Many such persons have overcome their shortcomings by long practice in driving and in such cases it is not my intention to interfere. All we want to know is that the applicant knows how to drive and is capable, physically, of handling a car," concluded Marsh.

The chief of the department of motor vehicles said that even under the provisions of the bill to be presented by him before the next legislature the restrictions concerning drivers will eliminate only those who are physically and mentally incapable of handling a machine. Poor eyesight, deafness or excitability in extreme degree are far more important disqualifications than the loss of a leg.

The average wealth of every person in the United States on December 31, 1922, was $2918, according to the department of commerce, which has just announced results of its latest decennial survey.

To Charles D. Hastings, president and general manager of the Hupp Motor Car corporation, this information concretely illustrates why there are so many automobiles, and why the economic situation.

Easy To Handle, Quick To Stop

CLARICE LOUISE BRENTON, Englishwoman, who has picked Glendale as her future home city, steps in her Moon Sport Model Sedan for a journey that takes her to the beaches, and through the heavy traffic of Los Angeles, where she finds "easy to drive and quick to stop" are Moon features.

ENGLISHWOMAN ENJOYS JOURNEY ALONG COAST IN CHIC SPORT MODEL

Driver Surprised to Find Automobile Easy To Handle In Heavy Traffic; Hydraulic Four-Wheel Brakes Important Item

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

When the open roads of Southern California beckon, and the tinge of sea breeze is wafted eastward from the ocean, there is nothing to compare with a trip over the inviting boulevards along the coast, in the opinion of Mrs. Clarice Louise Brenton, Englishwoman who has recently arrived in Glendale to make her home here. For such a trip Mrs. Brenton used her Moon sport sedan, purchased from the Penn-Rawls Motor company, 510 East Broadway.

"It is when my thoughts begin to wander back to my old home not far from the Devonshire coast, that I yearn for the soothing sea breezes and the murmurings of the waves as they throw their spray high," Mrs. Brenton said.

Comfort In Sedan
"In England we had no cars to compare with the sport sedan I am so proud of, and the trips along the coast were not always made with the greatest degree of comfort. But it is so different now. If the breeze is too strong, it is but a matter of a few seconds to put up the windows. If the day is warm, the windows can be dropped, and the trip is cool."

"From Glendale I motored first to Santa Monica by way of Hollywood, Beverly Hills and Sawtelle. Here in this place where the mountains meet the sea, is to be found one of the beauty spots of Southern California. Palisades Park is wonderful, and the view of the ocean, with the blue mountains in the background, is inspiring."

"Next on the beach trip comes Ocean Park, then Venice, on to Play Del Rey and El Segundo. In between, there are numerous beaches filled with carefree bathers and happy youngsters. Manhattan Beach is next, with Hermosa Beach and Redondo Beach beckoning to the motorist to tarry and enjoy the surf. Long rows of cottages and pretty little homes line the road until it appears like a street through a big city."

"Between Redondo Beach and San Pedro there are scores of beautiful places, where one might stop and picnic, or hunt moonstones on the beach. Scenic spots are everywhere, so the lovers of the great outdoors will find endless enjoyment."

"At San Pedro beauty and industry blend, and a glimpse of one of California's big businesses—shipping—is seen all the way to Long Beach, but principally at Wilmington where the lumber wharfs are. One may tarry as long as desired in Long Beach, and still not become bored, for it is a wonder city."

"Continuing the trip, Alamitos Bay, Naples, Seal Beach, Bay View, Sunset Beach, Huntington Beach, Newport Beach and on to Balboa, all beauty spots. All are glorious places one is loath to leave."

Easy In Traffic
"At first I was a little bit nervous, and almost decided to park the car somewhere, take in a movie, and wait until traffic was lighter, but I changed my mind."

Plan For Big Auto Show

DEALERS ARE TO MAKE DISPLAY

Local Association to Hold Exposition of Cars Early Next Month

Indication of this city's growing importance as a motor car distribution center is seen by President-elect Lyman P. Clark of the Glendale Automobile Dealers' Association, in the decision to stage the first annual Automobile Show here early in June.

Mr. Clark was elected president of the organization, succeeding C. H. Hunter, at yesterday's noon luncheon held at the Oakmont Country club, when Donald H. Packer was elected vice-president, M. B. Towman continued as secretary-treasurer, and the following directorate chosen: The above officers and C. H. Hunter, William A. Tanner, C. L. Smith, R. E. Corrigan and James French.

Site Is Chosen

The show will be held in the new home of the Court Motor company, now being erected at 901 South Brand boulevard, the southwest corner of the boulevard and Garfield avenue. Lyman P. Clark heads the committee in charge. He plans that this opportunity will be made the most of by every dealer in the association and that it will mark the beginning of a new era in local automobile annals.

Coming just at the advent of the vacation season, when the thoughts of many people logically turn to the purchase of a new motor car, Mr. Clark feels that the show strikes a psychological note of favor and will go over big.

Make Pledges

To prove that they plan an automobile show of the highest caliber, each member of the association present at yesterday's session pledged $125 toward financing the event, and agreed to an assessment at a later date if that sum did not prove adequate.

Each dealer will be enabled to exhibit several models, so ample is the floor space at the new home of the Court Motor company. It also is planned to have a number of accessory exhibits and concessions. The admission charge of 25 cents was felt to be nominal, the point being raised that for several years Los Angeles has charged 50 cents admission to the annual automobile show.

C. H. Hunter, retiring president, paid a high tribute to the work of Lyman P. Clark on the used car situation during the past

State Highway Cops In Standard Uniform

A standard uniform, semi-military in appearance, has been adopted for all members of the state highway patrol, operating on the highways of California, Will H. Marsh, chief of the division of Motor Vehicles, announced. The uniform conforms to the requirements of the motor vehicle act and traffic officers will be expected to wear it while on duty at all times, Marsh said.

The uniform adopted will be of good quality California grey or army olive drab. Caps will be of the same material with a long leather lined visor to protect the officer's eyes from the glare of the sun. Puttees will be of leather. Rank will be designated by suitable insignia.

The military effect will be accentuated by the Sam Browne belt worn on the outside of the blouse. The side arm will be worn in a holster on the left side. Badges will be displayed at all times. Marsh said frequent inspections of equipment would be made by district inspectors and that officers would be required to keep their uniforms neat and clean. Discussing the uniform Marsh said:

"A distinctive uniform is protection to the motoring public as well as the officer. The motorist stopped on the highways by the officer in uniform is assured that he is not being stopped by bandits while the officer is safe from stray bullets which might be forthcoming were he not in distinctive garb. In addition, the uniform adds dignity to the officer and the psychology of his presence will have a good effect on the motorist inclined to be reckless."

ASSOCIATION HEAD TELLS PROGRAM

Lyman P. Clark, Head of Organization, Outlines Future Policies

"With an annual turnover of approximately $6,000,000 from every branch of their business, the Glendale Automobile Dealers' Association may safely be rated as one of Glendale's greatest, if not the greatest, industries; and the problems of an association doing that amount of business are such as to call for careful study and wise decision," said Lyman P. Clark, newly elected president of the association, in a discussion of the policies to be followed during his term of office during the coming year.

"This volume of business includes the sales of new and used cars, repair work and sales of accessories," he added, "and it means that the fifteen firms forming the association are doing on an average a little better than $350,000 each."

Plans Committees

"It will be my aim to try to work out the solution of the problems of the dealers collectively, rather than individually, and to this end I expect to appoint both standing and special committees that will be in close touch with every detail of the business of the association. One branch that I am especially interested in because of my chairmanship of the committee that had charge of the work last year is that of the used car market, and through the association I hope to see the used cars put into the hands of the motoring public through the dealers in such a way that the dealers will stand responsible for every used car they sell."

"Another field where the association can serve Glendale at large is through close co-operation with the City Traffic Commission and with the police department in improving traffic conditions in the city in reducing accidents and violations of the vehicle law, but at the same time to work for the reduction in the number of arrests. The cultivation of better relations between the motoring public and the authorities does not offer any insuperable difficulty, and a better spirit will go forward doing away with the ill-feeling and prejudice that are so frequently manifested."

Period of Progress

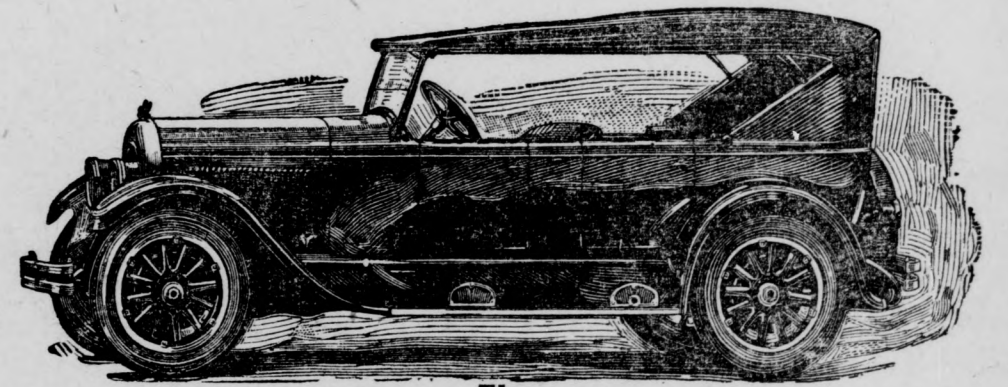

"With the board of directors that was elected yesterday, I feel that there should be a period of progress before the Glendale Automobile Dealers' Association. They are all men of experience and of vision who realize just

The Phaeton

Every drop of oil in the Chrysler Six motor is thoroughly filtered every 25 miles. The result of this automatic filtering is the constant use of oil that is practically fresh and entirely free from all foreign substance. It means far greater oil economy and contributes in no small measure to the Chrysler's remarkably smooth performance and freedom from carbon.

The Chrysler Six is literally the crystallization of all past experience in the design and manufacture of motor cars. It uses its power with far greater efficiency than any other car built today. It is so well balanced and cushioned against road shock that it can be driven in comfort 60 miles an hour on a cobbled street or rutted road.

Its three-inch motor develops a high gear speed range of 2 to over 70 miles an hour, combined with a gasoline economy safely over 20 miles per gallon. Never before has a car given such remarkable performance at such low costs.

NASH BALL TEAM SHUTS OUT FOES

Opens Mid-West League by Beating Logan Squares
by Score of 1-0

Employees of the Nash Motors company were made happy on Saturday when the Nash baseball team signalled the opening of the Midwest league season by defeating Logan Squares of Chicago, 1 to 0. The game was played at the Nash stadium in Kenosha, dedicated last season. Tom McGuire of the Nash Motors pitched a no-hit, no-run game, and King Lear, second baseman, covered himself with glory by knocking out a home run over right field fence for the only score of the game.

C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motors company, and other officials participated in the program arranged for Saturday, and just prior to the game floral presentations were made by Nash employees to Mr. Nash, Manager Walter Miller and to the players of the Nash team.

This is Nash Motors second season in the Midwest league, others in the league being the Logan Squares and Niesens of Chicago, Agathons of Massillon, Ohio; Terminus of Canton, Ohio; Fairies of Beloit, Wis.; Simmons of Kenosha, Wis., and Racine of Racine, Wis. Many of the players in the Midwest circuit have seen service in the major leagues.

"The Nash stadium is rated as one of the most modern industrial athletic fields in the country. The steel and concrete grand stand seats 2,300 spectators and, in addition, there are bleacher accommodations for 2,000 fans. There is also a clubhouse and a part of the park has been set aside for tennis and hand ball courts," says Donald C. Barbee of the Nash Sales company, 1234 South Brand boulevard, who, when he lived in the east, kept in close touch with the activities of the Nash athletes.

CLOSED CARS IN FORD CATALOGUE

Appeal to Woman Motorist Strongly Presented in New Literature

The latest catalogue issued by the Ford Motor company makes a direct appeal to the woman who drives her own car, and shows conclusively how the Ford enclosed cars meet the requirements that every woman stresses in the purchase of a machine for her individual use. These essentials are beauty and utility, with which must be embodied conveniences and refinements for the woman motorist. The catalogue asserts, whether for town or country use in either winter or summer.

The conservation of time and energy are aided in a large degree by the possession of a car, and for the woman driver the enclosed Ford is the chummiest machine on the highway, the catalogue asserts, whether for town or country use in either winter or summer. Coupled with the comfort of the enclosed model is the well known Ford ability to go anywhere, the simplicity of its mechanical appointments, the ease of handling, the economy on gasoline and oil, and the many conveniences that are built into the car to enhance the comfort of the motorist.

Each of the closed models is shown in the catalogue, and emphasized in a manner that exercises a strong appeal to the woman who wants to drive her own car.

REO SETS MARCH EXPORT RECORDS

Foreign Shipments Exceed Previous High Water
Mark, Is Claim

During the month of March just closed all previous records for volume of export business were broken by the Reo Motor Car company, according to R. C. Hennessy, of the Reo Motor Co., of California, 126 S. Orange street. The announcement of this record-breaking drive on foreign markets follows closely upon a statement for February when Reo export business was better than it had ever been before, but figures for March surpassed those of the preceding month before the month was three-quarters gone.

"Reo export business is being gradually extended into new fields, and the curve on the Reo sales chart, which represents the volume of export sales is showing a steady incline," says Mr. Hennessy. "Trade relations are now being established in many prosperous territories which have been untouched in the past by our company."

"Forty well-established distributing companies have been carrying on the greater part of the Reo export business and have been serving wide territories. Representatives in Antwerp, as an example, have just received a shipment of units sold to Germany. The whole of Australia, the Canary Islands and the various colonies of West Africa have proved to be especially good markets in the past few months. A new Reo distributor has just been established in Brazil with sales and service quarters in both Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo."

"The spring demand for Speed Wagons has been exceptionally heavy in England and Sweden. With marked improvement in Mexican business apparent, Mexico has also become an important field for foreign sales. Shipments into Mexico during the month of March were reported as being unusually heavy."

Per Capita Wealth Of America is $2819

ration point for motor cars on the North American continent may never be reached.

"Assuming that the average family contains four persons, its average wealth is more than $11,000, showing that it can well afford to own a motor car," says Mr. Hastings. "Per capita wealth increased 49.6 per cent in the ten years since the December 31, 1912, survey was made, when it was $1,850. The difference—nearly $4,000 for a family of four—is more than sufficient to enable the head of a household to purchase and maintain a motor car at all times."

"While the department pointed out that huge increase in per capita wealth is due principally to the rise in prices in recent years, and not entirely to a corresponding increase in the quantity of wealth, as economists figure it, there is no question that the average American family can afford to maintain a higher living standard than ten years ago."

Shown in Buying
"This is shown in the heavy buying of motor cars, in the greater proportion of more pretentious and comfortable homes being erected the country over, in the greater travel in Pullman cars, in tremendously increased road building, in the generally better standard of living, and in every line of business."

In per capita wealth, the United States is probably far the richest of any country of large population. The American nation is also the richest in the world, although three countries have

CHEVROLET PUTS OUT WOMAN'S CAR

Four-Passenger Coupe Ideal
Auto for Shopping or Social Affairs

To meet the requirements of women for a car for their own individual use, the Chevrolet Motor Company has specially designed and added to its standard line a four-passenger coupe. The new car is being shown by C. L. Smith in his showroom at Colorado and Orange, Glendale.

With more than 14,000,000 motor cars now being operated throughout the United States, statistics recently compiled by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce show that more than 5 per cent of this sum total of cars are owned and operated by women.

The demand for a distinctively woman's car is constantly growing, according to automobile dealers. Speaking of this yesterday, C. L. Smith said:

"The automobile is today an important factor in the life and activities—home, social, recreational, and business—of women everywhere. With the ever increasing demand upon their time, they are realizing more and more that a car for their personal use—their own car—is an actual, day by day, necessity."

"The woman's own car is an essential thing. It provides the real solution of the problem of the busy woman who must find time somehow to accomplish the many things she has to do and, at the same time, keep herself happy and healthy while doing them."

The Chevrolet four-passenger coupe is fully equipped, has sun visor, windshield cleaner, dome and dash lights, foot accelerator, and plate glass windows fitted with Tarnstedt regulators. The closed body is by Fisher. Seating arrangements take care of four people without cramping or crowding; when less than four are carried, the front seat, beside the driver, may be folded up and turned in under the dash. A compartment inside the car provides generous space for the carrying of packages.

OLDS OUTPUT IS SHOWING GROWTH

Six Models Increasing as Demand Is Emphasized
All Over Country

Increasing production of Oldsmobile Six models to meet the demand is occupying the attention of the Olds Motor Works officials at Lansing, according to Fred J. Miner, western zone manager for the Oldsmobile who has just returned to California after a visit to Lansing and a conference with factory officials there.

In talking with C. H. Hunter, Oldsmobile dealer, 208 West Broadway, Miner expressed the greatest confidence in the prospects for the spring and summer months and pointed with pride to the sales and production record that has been made by the Oldsmobile factory since the introduction of the new six cylinder model. "Personally I think that the scare and the talk about the hoof and mouth disease is all out of proportion with the danger that is likely to result," said Miner. "I have taken the pains to talk with men who know what measures are being taken by the State and the Federal authorities to check the cattle disease and I feel confident from their reports that it will not be long until it is completely stamped out of the State."

"With the rain having come during my eastern visit to relieve the drought situation that prevailed when I left and with the hoof and mouth disease well in check I think that California automobile men will share with the general business prosperity that is certain to come during the coming months of late spring and early summer."

WORK DECREASES

CLEVELAND, May 8.—A survey of 100 large industrial plants here just completed showed an increase in applicants for jobs and a five per cent decrease in employment. No change in wages are apparent, except in common labor, where the hiring rate has advanced from 44.7 cents an hour in March to 45.6 cents. The chief decrease in employment came in iron and steel plants and those making ferrous by-products. Such plants have laid off 1800 men or 6.5 per cent. Eleven textile plants cut forces 5.8 per cent and 17 automobile factories discharged 4.5 per cent of their workers. The miscellaneous industries cut but four per cent. Slight increases were recorded by chemical, printing and lumber plants.

99 PER CENT HONEST

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 8.—The public is 99 per cent pure, Harry H. Rogers, of the Business Men's Bible class, declared in a talk to the class recently. "Of all the thousands who handle money, not as many as one out of 100 go wrong," he declared.

larger populations, India and China much larger. The department reports that the American national wealth on December 31, 1922, was $320,803,862,000, of which taxes on real property is estimated at $155,905,625,000. Total wealth increased 72.2 per cent in the decade. The 159.1 per cent increase in manufacturing machinery, tools and implements is an indication of the tremendous expansion of industry in the decade covered.

what is required to keep the automotive industry here on a stable basis and who will work for its advancement along lines that cannot help but work for its ultimate good.

Mr. Clark first engaged in the automobile business in 1902 back in Allentown, Pa., where he was selling steam cars. Later he went to Ardmore, Pa., where he worked for the Auto Car company, leaving that firm to come to Los Angeles as sales manager for the Lord Motor company, remaining there for eight years. He then became connected with the Union Motors company, Maxwell distributors, as one of the executives in the wholesale department, coming to Glendale as Maxwell dealer in February 1, 1922, under the style of the Glendale Motor Car company. His business rapidly grew and he erected his present building at 124 West Colorado street, which is now taxed to capacity.

The Glendale Motor Car company, of which Mr. Clark is president, represents the Maxwell, Chrysler and Chalmers cars in this territory.

ENJOYS JOURNEY ALONG SEA COAST

and continued the homeward journey. There was no great desire to get home at any specific time, but I wanted to see how the car acted in heavy traffic, whether it were easy to handle or hard.

"Here I got another surprise, for, as unused to driving in heavy traffic as I am, I experienced no trouble. The four-wheel hydraulic brakes enabled me to stop the car quickly when another car cut in ahead of me, or a semaphore sign went up just as I was getting under way to cross the street."

The hydraulic four-wheel brakes on a car equipped with balloon tires make an ideal combination. W. G. Rawls, of the Penn-Rawls Motor company, believes. He points to a demonstration on a steep hill overlooking Glendale boulevard near Edendale.

Holds Its Course

"You have probably noticed," said Mr. Rawls, "that in making a quick stop with the ordinary car, if the brakes are not exactly equalized, the car will often swerve due to one brake gripping sooner than the other. The Moon won't do that. The hydraulic four-wheel brakes are self equalizing and the balloon tires grip the road so firmly that, no matter how quick you have to stop, the Moon holds its course."

"Take that demonstration when Brent Harding, former race driver, and myself were out on that steep hill overlooking Glendale boulevard, the steepest hill around those parts. The Moon was full tilt off the crest of the hill, and the brakes applied quick and hard, the driver holding his hands in the air. The Moon held its course."

"Every prospective automobile purchaser hears a lot about 'assembled' cars. The phrase is overworked, and some salesmen deride another car by calling it an 'assembled' car. Here's the truth about this 'assembled' business: 'Practically every car made in America today is using units made by specialists, whether few or many. They are better, they are sound mechanical economies, and the public can rely on them in daily use.'

"Moon long ago freed itself from any false pride about making its own engines. They have higher work for their engineering talent than to keep them working over engines that can be built better and at a lower cost by the engine specialists."

year, and said that had the association done nothing else, that would stand, as a big job well done.

The used car condition is very favorable at the present time, he said, stating that there are 291 used cars on hand among the various dealers, and that the problem of the high-priced used car is being solved in a satisfactory manner.

Prospects for the coming year are very favorable, Mr. Hunter said, but will require close co-operation and strict adherence to existing policies.

Bay Cities to Make Reports on Violations

For the first time in several motor vehicle act are being received from police judges and justices in San Francisco and the bay cities, it was stated today at the offices of the division of motor vehicles. First reports have come from Oakland, while a number of San Francisco officials have made application for abstract forms. Reports from these cities will make possible a complete check of violations in the state, division officials said.

ing its own engines. They have higher work for their engineering talent than to keep them working over engines that can be built better and at a lower cost by the engine specialists."

"Years ago the Moon worked out a successful production method that has given it the unique position it holds in the automobile industry. It is designed and built by specialists in collaboration with unit specialists who have applied their highly technical training to Moon requirements. As a result everything that can be seen or found on, in or about a Moon car is not only right, but the best obtainable."

The "free ride" idea being carried out by the Penn-Rawls Motor company now, in order to get residents of Glendale better acquainted with the riding qualities of Moon cars, is meeting with unexpected success, Mr. Rawls said. Several persons who have hailed one of the cars in more of a jovial mood, have returned to inquire more about the cars, and several are listed for early deliveries.

FIND GOLD MINE BENEATH GARAGE

Dealer Uncovers Rich Vein While Excavating for Underground Tank

When Atherton B. Snyder started to excavate for an underground gasoline tank in his garage at Grass Valley, he struck gold-bearing ore a few feet below the surface, says a report to Stephen C. Packer of the Packer Auto company, 245 South Brand boulevard, local dealers.

Mr. Snyder had the ore assayed and found that it contained a considerable quantity of gold. He kept going deeper and getting more gold, and reported to the Studebaker corporation that, between selling Studebaker cars and mining gold, he had his hands full. In a few weeks, as the shaft sunk deeper, his garage was full, too—full of dirt from the excavation.

The miners were bringing up so much ore that the Snyder service department was getting too crowded for comfort. By that time, however, he had taken enough money out of the mine to pay for the garage.

Sticks to Studebaker But the congested condition could not continue. It reached a point where Snyder had to give up the mine or give up the garage. Since so many Studebakers were being sold in Grass Valley, Mr. Snyder began to do some figuring.

Studebaker had been doing business for seventy-two years, he knew, while his gold mine might "peter out" any day. He deliberated on the problem for a short time and decided to close up his gold mine and stick to his Studebakers.

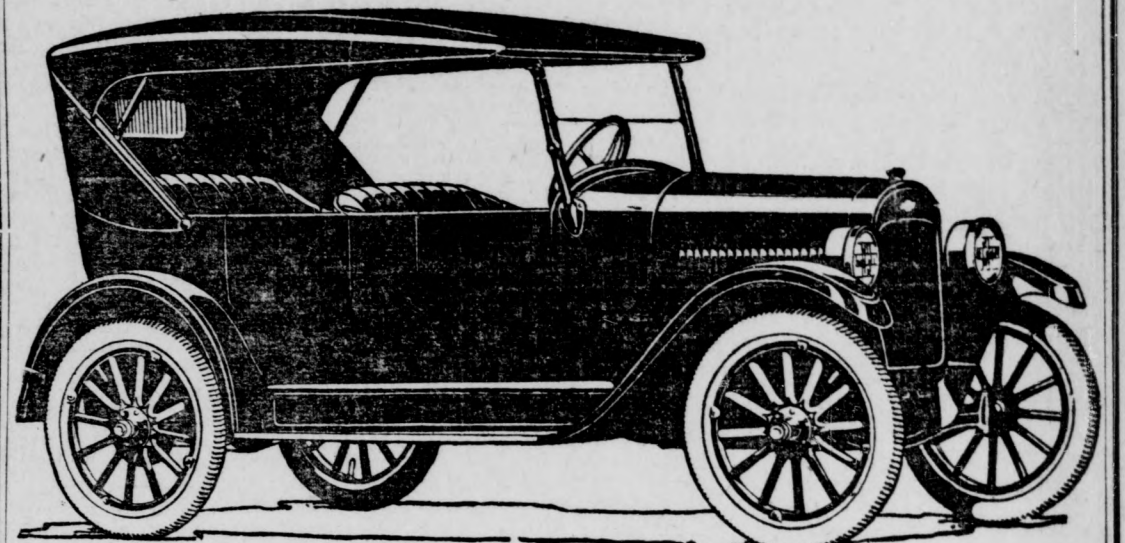

When asked if he didn't have difficulty making up his mind to abandon the gold mine, Mr. Snyder said:

"Not much. Why bother with a gold mine when you've such a substantial business as the contract for Studebakers? A gold mine is a fickle thing, uncertain at best, liable to quit on you at any time. But selling Studebakers is a sure thing. I'll keep my garage." And he has.

Here's Convincing Evidence of Extra Value The Nash Touring

Let's forget for a moment the good looks of this model.

Let's even forget the wonderful performance—the quietness, the smoothness, the great volume of flexible power.

And then turn to the things you rarely see but which are so vital to your satisfaction.

For example—the crankshaft and connecting rod bearings. All are extremely large. The result is greater smoothness and endurance.

Then, the camshaft. It is over-size. This means that distortion or deflection from cam action is prevented.

Next—the axle housings. They are of malleable iron rather than pressed steel. This insures permanency of mesh, exact alignment of gears, and greatly enhances operative quietness.

These are advantages of the Nash Four Touring that lift it distinctly above its field.

These—together with many others—are what make this car the greatest buy you can find at anything like this low price.

CIRCUS PEOPLE NEVER TIRE OF LIVES IN TENT

Spend Leisure Moments at 'Big Top' When Other Things Offered

NEW YORK, May 8.—Did you ever pause to wonder what circus people do to amuse themselves when they are not leading lions around or hanging by their eyebrows on a trapeze?

They do just what everybody else does—stick around "the outfit" or "talk shop," or seek some recreation very little removed from "work."

Take the Nelson family, for instance, now appearing with the combination Barnum & Bailey & Ringling Brothers' big show at Madison Square Garden.

There have been three generations of the Nelsons who earned their livelihood under the big top. You'd think Arthur Nelson, the father, and Mrs. Nelson and the six unusually pretty daughters and little Paul would be "fed up" on the none too fragrant atmosphere, the blaring brass bands, the snoring animals and the other less alluring angles of circus life, which, it seems, would long since have lost its glamour for them.

Not so.

Several days before the big show opened here recently you could find Pa, Ma, the six daughters and the boy ranged around the "reserved seat" section, enthralled by the intrepid tiger tamer, whose surly charges, after several months of inactivity, were very much averse to going through their paces.

"Do you know," the elder sister asked, "that an elephant's eye magnifies 1,200 times and that that's the reason the trainer can handle 'em? You can imagine how big a man looks to an elephant!" She guessed the tiger's eyes magnified considerably, too.

The circus is born and bred in the bone of the Nelson family, which, they proudly assert, is the only real "family" in the business, the rest of the so-called families being made up usually of relatives far removed. But the Nelsons' grandparents and great-grandparents were all circus people, they declare, and there is no other pursuit they would care to follow.

Theol, young and pretty, who "does flip-flaps" from one end of the show to the other, has two hobbies—but they are so closely allied to the circus business that to an outsider they would seem more like work than recreation.

Rides Horseback
"I like to ride the 'high school' horses during my off period in the afternoon," she confided, "and I like to swim, too."

One might think that turning "flip-flaps" several hundred feet

Pre-Natal Disease Injures Potatoes, Scientist's Claim

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—Even the potato is the victim of pre-natal influences, according to D. G. Milbrath, state plant pathologist. The scientist reports that two per cent of the potato crop annually is lost because of hereditary diseases. Total losses from pests and diseases in California last year reduced the potato crop 25 per cent, said Milbrath, representing a loss of $2,500,000.

Mrs. Crawford presented her annual report on philanthropy yesterday, reviewing the work at the Albion Street school and the Maternity cottage.

Greetings from the Eagle Rock delegation were given by Mrs. Shedd.

Most delightful were the piano groups by Mrs. Phelps, who is a real artist. In recognition of National Music Week it was most fitting that she should choose selections by well-known American players. She gave "Grand Valse Brillante" (Mama Zucca), then two compositions of Homer Grunn, "Flute God," and a tone picture of the desert, "The Song of the Mesa."

across the bare ground would be ample exercise for any attractive young lady, but not so; Theol is all for athletic pastimes. A sister made it clear that Theol is really an accomplished horseback rider and that, in addition to her achievements as a "lady acrobat," she can take her turn in the sawdust ring with the best of them.

The family has been with "every circus on earth" and has traveled all over America, Australia, New Zealand and innumerable other countries, the girl said. They speak the language of the circus poster—rather inclined to superlatives—because they are permeated through and through with the spirit of the thing. They love their work and are as enthusiastic about it as any kid in knee pants who has to sneak in under the tent or carry water for the elephants in order to view the spectacle.

KELLEY TO HOLD FORMAL OPENING

Hudson-Essex Agents Have Handsome South Brand
Boulevard Home

Announcement is made today that the formal opening of the new home of the Kelley Motor Company, Hudson and Essex distributors, at 816 South Brand boulevard, will be held Saturday, May 10, between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 in the afternoon and 7:30 and 10:30 at night. The reception at the handsome establishment that will house the Hudson-Essex agency will be enriched with music, according to Porter Kelley, who states that the full program for the occasion will be made public through The Glendale Evening News on Saturday.

The opening of the Kelley Motor Company's new building marks the removal of another of the city's leading automobile firms to the South Brand boulevard region that is growing so rapidly in favor with the members of the industry, and the agency's home ranks with the most attractive buildings on the boulevard.

Pensioner Settles In Cozy Dog Kennel

LONDON, May 8.—After a year's search for a house, Ben Parkinson, a pensioner of Blackley, has settled down in a dog kennel.

Pleads for Loyalty
Baroness De Ropp, adopted American, of whom Glendale is very proud for her loyalty to America and the American government, is an earnest speaker on patriotism. Yesterday she declared strongly against the United States' recognizing of soviet Russia. She gave many tragic instances of conditions in Russia since the revolution, stating that there is no free education, no religious freedom and a prevalence of crime.

In closing she made a plea through her hearers to all Glendale for loyalty to the Constitution of the United States and to the American flag.

Later tea was served under the direction of Mrs. Addison, assisted by Mesdames Saylor, Drake and others.

BATTERY AGENCY REDUCES PRICES

Westinghouse Station Cuts
Profit on Individual
Sales, Is Claim

Millions have been made on big volume sales and a small profit on each sale. That's the policy the managers of the Westinghouse Battery Station at Glendale and Colorado street have decided on, with the result that they have reduced the price of their "Wubco" Westinghouse battery to $18.45.

Increased production at the Westinghouse factory has aided somewhat in reducing the price, but the local dealers have brought it even lower through cutting their own profit on each individual sale.

The Westinghouse headquarters is also an official headlight adjusting station. In regard to proper adjustment of headlights A. A. King says:

"I have just received notice from the State Motor Vehicle department that a campaign is now being prosecuted by all state, county and city traffic officers to eliminate the glaring headlight evil. Officers are stationed in strategic positions on the highway with orders to arrest any motorist who cannot show a headlight inspection certificate."

The Holly carburetor is also distributed and serviced at the Westinghouse station.

TIRE PRINCIPLES PROVED IN TEST

Balloon Type Practical In Every Way, Is Claim
Of Local Dealer

Balloon tires are here to stay, according to W. H. Hooper, 222 East First, who asserts that the Firestone organization is generally credited with having developed the balloon tire to the point where it is today.

This type of tire, Mr. Hooper says, was tested over 2,000,000 miles over a period of two years before it was offered to the public, and these tests showed that the balloon principle was sound and that the tire was destined to come into general use on its merits and nothing else.

The points that are claimed for the balloon tire are that it affords greater comfort, greater safety and greater car conservation, without sacrificing mileage or adding to the fuel consumption. Mr. Hooper, who sells the Miller tires in this territory, declares that the balloon tire is practical in every way, and he explains the reason for the balloon tire's discovery to the demand for a tire that would carry a given load at a much lower air pressure than the standard tire would do. The cross section of the balloon tire is much larger than that of the standard tire and it is much more flexible.

TO FETE NATAL DAY OF FATHER OF OSTEOPATHY

Three Thousand Exponents
Of Science to Assemble
In Missouri City

By JACK CEJNAR
By International News Service.
KIRKSVILLE, Mo., May 8.—More than 3000 osteopaths from all parts of the United States, Mexico, Canada and Europe are expected to flock to this city the latter part of May to take part in the Golden Jubilee celebration here of the semi-centennial anniversary of the birth of osteopathy.

On May 25 all Kirksville will be in holiday attire to pay tribute to the memory of Dr. Andrew T. Still, the father of the science of osteopathy, who came here in 1875 from Baldwin, Kan., as the ridiculed exponent of a new-fangled theory, and who died here December 12, 1917, honored and respected as the founder of a great new medical science.

To Hold Convention

Following the Still memorial day will come a week's convention of the American Osteopathic association, which will be held in Kirksville for the first time in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of osteopathy. Increased interest has been aroused in this convention by the announcement that the two osteopathic colleges in Kirksville are being merged. They are the American School of Osteopathy and the Andrew T. Still College of Osteopathy and Surgery. The consolidated college will be known as the American School of Osteopathy and Andrew T. Still College of Osteopathy and Surgery, Combined.

Although fifty years have passed since osteopathy was first introduced by Dr. Andrew T. Still, it is interesting to note that some of the men and women who helped Dr. Still in launching the new science are still in active life. One is Dr. A. G. Hildreth, now in charge of the osteopathic sanitarium for the treatment of mental and nervous diseases at Macon, Mo. Another is Harry Still, a son of Dr. Still, who is connected with the osteopathic college here. Members of the first class that ever studied osteopathy are still in active service, and will attend the Golden Jubilee celebration here.

Theory Attacked

The discovery of osteopathy was first announced at Baldwin, Kan., June 22, 1874, but so hostile was the medical profession of which Dr. Still, up to that time, had been an honored member, and so critical were his own friends and relatives, that, within a year, Dr. Still left Kansas and located in Kirksville.

For eighteen years Dr. Still practiced osteopathy almost alone. He lectured and demonstrated in all of the school houses of Adair county and delivered addresses on osteopathy in Hannibal, Wadesburg, Clinton, Holden, Rich Hill, Harrisonville, Palmyra, Kansas City and other Missouri cities. In 1892 he organized the first American School of Osteopathy, and the first class of seventeen members was graduated here in 1894. In 1897 the American Osteopathic association was organized—now a society with large membership.

Old Idea Upheld
The osteopathy of today is a great advance over that first announced in Kansas fifty years ago, yet the practitioners who are coming back to Kirksville to celebrate still believe absolutely in the two fundamental discoveries of Dr. Still. The first is that the normal body is capable of making within itself all of the medicine it needs; the second is that when the body machine becomes deranged the result is pressure, which interferes with the normal flow of the forces and fluids of the body, and this interference must be removed by mechanical adjustment before health is attained.

On Monday, May 26, the first day of the convention, a great parade will be held, in which will be floats representing every state of the Union. Fifteen ples may be made completely every minute in a newly-patented machine.

Plan New Bond Vote
LOS ANGELES, May 8.—Re-submission of the power bond issue to Los Angeles voters at the earliest opportunity was considered at a conference of power bureau and other officials following the defeat of the $21,000,000 power bond issue at Tuesday's election. While the power bonds received the largest number of votes by a wide margin they did not receive the necessary two-thirds majority necessary to make them pass.

Possibility of obtaining a change in the state law so that only a majority vote will be required to ratify producing bonds such as the power bonds, was also discussed at the conference. An investigation of the expenditures of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric company in the bonding campaign may be requested of the state railroad commission as a result of the conference, it was learned.

May Ask Recount
Irregularities said to have occurred at many polling places throughout the city were also discussed at the meeting, with a view of asking a recount if such a move is found advisable.

The county flood control bonds for $35,000,000 passed by a large majority, as did the other eleven questions presented to the voters.

CHURCH TO LIFT BAN ON DANCING

Methodists' Discipline to Be Modified in Merging Of Two Groups

its way when the Methodist General Conference meets in Springfield, Massachusetts, this month. Several annual conferences have already put themselves on record as favoring this step—the New England, New England Southern, the New York, New York East, the Newark, the Rock River, and the Central Pennsylvania, and it is reported that many younger members of the Methodist ministry have sharpened their lances for the tilt.

"As the Book of Discipline stands, no dancing-master, even though he confine himself to instruction only in the daily minutiae of the once fashionable Virginia reel, may become a member of the Methodist church. A similar barrier is raised against the actor, even though he be another Fred Stone, the famous vaudeville, who was converted some months ago and who has publicly professed his faith and dedicated himself to God. Nor can any person who goes to a circus or attends a show be a consistent member of the Methodist church. The rules are more honored in the breach than in the observance, we are told; and it is to remove this anomaly as well as to temper the Discipline to modern needs and thought that the agitation against the rule as at present written is being raised. The amendment paragraph was adopted at the General Conference of 1872, in Brooklyn. It runs as follows: "In case of neglect of duties of any kind; imprudent conduct; indulging in sinful tempers or words; dancing, playing at games of chance; attending theatres, horse-races, circuses, dancing-parties, or patronizing dancing-schools, or taking such other amusements as are obviously misleading or questionable morally; or disobedience to the Order and Discipline of the church, on first offense let private reproof be given by the pastor or class leader, and if there be an acknowledgment of the fault and proper humiliation, the person may be borne with. On the second offense the pastor or class leader may take with him one or two discreet members of the church. On the third offense let him be brought to trial, and if found guilty and there be no sign of real humiliation, he shall be expelled."

Johnson Supporters Praised In Telegram

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—The following telegram was received from Senator Johnson at the Johnson-for-President headquarters in San Francisco.

"The finest thing in my political life has been the recent contest in California, where men and women with whom I have marched to victory for fourteen years, knowing a fore-ordained result, chose to go down with me to defeat. I doubt if any other place on earth can show so large a portion of a citizenship unafraid, accepting in advance defeat, merely to register its esteem and loyalty. I am exceedingly grateful to those who made the fight. I wish I could personally thank each one, but only through the medium of the press can I express my gratitude and my appreciation. This, after all, is no real disaster. It is neither despairing nor disheartening. The contest has cleared and garnished our house. It has more closely knit Progressives. We look to the future only now, to California and California's welfare; and the men and women of Tuesday's fight, whom power could not swerve nor influence and wealth deter, whose ranks were unbroken by certainty of defeat, will prepare for the next struggle and go forward again to victory."

announce an intention to veto the bill in advance of consideration of its merits after it comes to him. But many of the features of the bill are so obnoxious to big business, particularly that which makes income tax returns open to public inspection that a veto is rapidly becoming probable.

Dodge Responsibility
When word, however, reaches the Senate that the tacking on of mischievous provisions may bring a veto, the chances are they will be eliminated, as the Senate collectively or individually would not take the responsibility for defeating tax revision. Some Republicans think it would not be a bad idea to carry the issue, the country in the coming campaign, pointing out that the Mellon plan is popular, and that the Democrats and insurgents would be held to accountability for blocking the plan.

Mr. Coolidge is going to veto the immigration bill if it comes to him in its present form. He has taken pains in the last twenty-four hours to explain that he was misinterpreted a week ago, when he announced he favored exclusion of the Japanese.

The Japanese themselves do not object to the principle of the exclusion, for they are beginning to recognize that it is an economic question in the United States and that every nation has a right to exclude labor likely to be competitive with its own. But the Japanese insist that the method of accomplishing exclusion is an offense to them. Secretary Hughes favors agreement by treaty. So does the president. Mr. Coolidge is trying to secure a modification. If he fails he will be compelled to veto the measure and ask for the insertion of a clause delaying the enforcement of the act so far as the Japanese are concerned until a year or so has been given for negotiation and ratification of a special treaty with Japan.

Mr. Coolidge's conferences with Senate leaders to point out the perils of the legislative situation have begun none too soon. The Republican leadership has lost control of the Senate and the exercise of the veto power alone will, at this time, affect the insurgent Republicans along with the Democrats on specific issues.

Fight on Cattle Plague Is Cause of Slaughter of 77,059 Animals

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—The total appraised value of livestock slaughtered up to May 6 in the fight against the foot and mouth disease in California was $2,962,122.21, according to a statement made today by the state board of control.

A total of 77,059 animals has been killed in eradication of the livestock plague, of which 36,101 were cattle, 18,170 swine, 22,362 sheep and 417 goats.

Veterans of Spanish War Initiate Four

The Spanish War Veterans of Glendale, of which L. D. Pike is commander, did not let to Hollywood last night to assist in the installation of a new camp there upon plans. Several matters of importance and the initiation of four new members made it impossible for them to carry out their plans.

A very satisfactory report was given by the membership captains relative to the progress being made in gaining new members. Plans were made for co-operating with the Women's Auxiliary in preparing the army dinner to be given Wednesday night, May 21.

Salmon Fishermen to Start Alaskan Trip

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Arrangements were speeded today for getting the score of salmon packing vessels which have been lying idle at their docks here under way, following the signing of a wage agreement late yesterday. The boats will be on their way in ten days, manned by 1700 union men, Peter Olson, secretary of the Alaska Fishermen's union, said. Other boats at Astoria and Seattle will head for Alaska soon. The wage agreement ended a three months' deadlock.

Announce Engagement In Fear of Exposures

BERKELEY, Cal., May 8.—Fearing exposure at the "confession" party tomorrow night where University of California co-eds annually admit Cupid has snared them, twenty-one of the promised brides today announced their engagements. All are members of the senior class which will receive diplomas this month. Fifty more are expected to follow suit tomorrow night.

Community Sing Is Scheduled Tonight At Harvard School

National Music Week would not be complete without a rousing community "sing" and this event is to take place tonight at the Harvard High school at 8 o'clock.

J. Arthur Myers will direct the singing with Miss May Orcutt at the piano. Special features will be selections by Z. A. Merridith on a horn of his own invention; and songs by Ted Weisbart, tenor, "Macushla" and "Mother Machree."

COOLIDGE FACES FIGHT OVER BAN

Delay In Jap Exclusion to Precipitate Revolt In Ranks of Congress

nor House will accept the date fixed by the president and Mr. Hughes.

Imputes Motive
No issue that has arisen this session between the executive and legislative branches of the government has been productive of the harsh words and angry comment that greeted the Coolidge-Hughes move today.

Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, a consistent friend of the administration, openly expressed wonderment "whether Mr. Coolidge is not playing politics." He observed that only last Friday announcement was made at the White House that the president favored exclusion and it was indicated that the existing bill would meet his approval.

"That was before the California primary," said the Nebraska senator. "The primary is over now." Senator Shortridge, Republican of California, charged there was "something sinister" in the whole reversal of the exclusion situation. He said he saw no reason for nearly a year's extension of time "to abrogate the gentlemen's agreement."

Shortridge to Fight
"If Mr. Hughes can't and the gentlemen's agreement—which is not a treaty—in the two months between now and July 1, then let him resign," said the California senator.

Shortridge served notice the time extension would be "fought to the last ditch."

"I will make a point of order against it," he said, "and I think it will be sustained. If not—then we will beat it by a direct vote."

The point of order will be made that the Senate and House conferences exceeded their authority in agreeing to the time extension. There are ample precedents for such a contention, for heretofore conference committees have been prohibited from putting new material in bills. The time extension is distinctly new material, for the Senate originally voted to make exclusion effective immediately and reluctantly agreed to the House feature of July 1.

WILL CELEBRATE PAVING'S FINISH

Advancement Association to Stage Big Program on Saturday, May 17

The celebration marking the completion of the paving on Glendale avenue, and the opening of the street, will be held on the night of May 17, it was decided at the meeting of the Glendale Advancement association, held today noon at the Harriett Mae Tea room. W. H. Mills, of the Glendale & Montrose Railway company, is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the celebration.

The celebration was tentatively set last week for May 3, but postponed when it was learned the paving was not completed. The work will be finished today, it was announced at the meeting.

Mrs. M. L. Tight was appointed chairman of a committee to endeavor to get traffic lights at Broadway and Glendale avenue, and at Colorado and Glendale avenue. Mrs. Tight's committee will also look after double standard lights for Glendale avenue north of Wilson avenue.

lated $3,600,000,000 bonds on the market at the prevailing interest rate, now estimated at between 4 and 5 per cent. Forty year bonds would be the logical issue, according to treasury experts, thus extending the bonus liquidation over sixty years.

Treasury officials said the bonds should not be given to bonus beneficiaries in lieu of cash, because, they believe 50 per cent of the veterans would sacrifice the bonds at far under face value to obtain ready cash.

Interest Costs
It would result in the collapse of other government paper and precipitate a serious situation, the treasury officials claim.

In present estimates of the bonus cost interest that must be paid on the bonds following maturity of policies has not heretofore been taken into consideration, according to treasury experts.

To build up the sinking fund, it was estimated that approximately $151,000,000 annually in principal and interest would be deposited in the sinking fund in the form of bonds.

ROTARIANS PLAN BOYS' WEEK WORK

Members of Committee Will Announce Details to School Students

Final arrangements are being completed by the Glendale Rotary club for their boys' week work Friday and Saturday, May 16 and 17, Chairman Arthur Dibernon of the committee in charge of the program, announcing his plans in detail at this noon's luncheon of the Rotarians.

Tomorrow morning members of the Rotary club will go before the classes in the various schools and outline to the boys just what is expected of them. They will tell of the parade a week later which will have numerous prize awards for Boy Scouts and various schools. They also will invite the boys to attend a ball game the following Saturday at the White Sox park here between two all-star teams.

Loyalty Is Keynote
Rule Downing is arranging for the crippled boys to see the parade. Prizes will be placed on exhibition next Tuesday in the Cornwell & Kelly window. The theme of the parade, according to R. D. White, superintendent of city schools, will be "Loyalty" and hundreds of flags will be in evidence the week from today when the youth of the city line up on Colorado street, east of the high school, at 3 o'clock.

Rotarians today had the pleasure of greeting their new president, J. Herbert Smith, who replaced George B. Karr. He has been unable to attend for several meetings because of a poisoned hand. Officers will be installed next week.

For Mothers' Day
In addition to expressing a few fitting words on the subject of Mothers' day—next Sunday—the Rev. Ernest E. Ford, sky pilot of the club, presented each member with a white carnation and a booklet of selected poems appropriate to the subject of Mother.

"No organization I know so takes us back to home and mother and all of the thrills of boyhood as Rotary," said Rev. Ford.

Rene Olin, efficient secretary of the organization, gave a comprehensive report of the year's expenditures. Attorney Owen C. Emery led in the singing of "Mother Machree" and other songs.

Visitors at this noon's luncheon included Leo Green of Los Angeles who recently has sent to every member of Rotary International in California a famed code of ethics in miniature. A. Carman Smith, advertising expert of Los Angeles, also was present, as were Earl Kennell of Eugene, Ore.; Ed O. Stafford of Marquette, Mich.; Will Leishman and Hal Miller of Pasadena.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D.
Author of Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. R.—I judge from your symptoms that you must have Hay Fever, and undoubtedly your susceptibility is due to the diseased condition of your nose. If you have confidence in your specialist I would advise you to let him attend to it. You say you consider an operation as the last resort. An operation, if there is any malformation or growth in the nose, instead of being the last resort, should be the first resort. You probably will experience no relief until you have it done. Thank you very much for "them kind words" regarding me and my work.

Anxious—You have asthma, numbness in your arms and legs, nasty pain in the region of your heart and feel faint after eating, but do not seem to be bothered with this faintness if you are hungry. You have not had a vacation in years, you are tired, you are blue and despondent and worry about and fear death; you want to know if I think it wise for you to go to a physician.

Well, I'll say I do! I think you need a very thorough physical and mental examination. The chances are you will find that there is nothing the matter with you but your overwrought condition, but you want to be sure. But it. You probably have a high blood pressure, but it will disappear with your loss of weight, and probably along with it all of your other symptoms. You say you are now following our reducing system, so it is more than likely that by this time you are happy as a lark. I sincerely hope so.

Miss B.—The value of that product you see advertised is undoubtedly due to the milk with which it is taken.

"Dear Doctor Lulu: I have been reading of the wonderful help you are giving to the unfortunate. I am a very good-looking young man. I make this statement without the least conceit—but I am 5 feet tall, well-endowed—but I weigh 190 pounds. Isn't that a bit over? I am at home for a short vacation and I find it impossible to curb my appetite while in the vicinity of my mother's lunch cart. Pigs' knuckles and sauer kraut are my weak points. I would like to conquer my appetite as you did yours. Pounds! Pounds! They pile on me. At each little taste Of a Calorie. That is how I feel about it. Can you help me? My roommate is doing his best to gain weight, even though he eats twice as much as I do. If you would send him directions on how to gain, we both would be very grateful. Yours in admiration and hope—Tom."

I fear I must think you are a little conceited, Tom, if you weigh 190 pounds and are only five feet tall, because you are presenting to the world at least 75 pounds more than you ought. That sure is a bit over! However, you are probably thinking of yourself as you should be—of an ideal self, as it were, and that is not at all a bad idea. In fact, it is a good idea if one does as you are doing—that is, starts in the way of realizing the ideal. If the s. a. s. e. and four cents in stamps were enclosed, you have already received your directions and perhaps by this time you are shrinking and your roommate is expanding. I hope so. Let me know your results.

P. S.—I'll wager anything that your roommate does not eat twice as much as you do. Count the Calories and see.

Bandy—I fear that at your age, of 19, not much can be done to straighten your legs, except surgery. If they are deforming, go to an orthopedic surgeon and see what he has to say.

Tomorrow—Answers to Mothers

My Dear Followers—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. If you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Fire of Youth, Wisdom of Age

By NORMAN E. BROWN

While the outcome of the women's Olympic tennis matches depends mainly upon the final decision of Miss Suzanne Lenglen as to whether or not she will compete, America is set to make a strong bid for this event. For Uncle Sam is sending over the best balanced team that has represented this country abroad in many years.

The four members of the team are Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, Miss Helen Wills, Miss Eleanor Goss and Mrs. Marian Zinderstein Jessup.

The team possesses, first of all, perfect balance. Mrs. Wightman, who will captain the team, and Miss Eleanor Goss carry with them the wisdom of experience, the calmness under tournament conditions acquired through years of important national and international play. Miss Wills, national champion and still in her teens, and Mrs. Jessup have the fire and dash of youth—the strong attack that youth finds the best form of defense.

Mrs. Wightman was the leading player of the United States 12 and 15 years ago. As national champion in those days she reigned supreme. Despite her years on the court she still plays a brilliant game, marked chiefly by its consistency.

Miss Goss is a veteran of years. Her style is a bit more flashy than Mrs. Wightman, but both depend upon a steady, strategic game rather than a strong attack.

Miss Wills, with youth and a terrific force behind her driving, counts upon her amazing attack to win points. Since she first broke into national prominence her marvelous power has been a source of wonder to net experts. Her forearms indicate clearly where that power lies. She has the strong forearm and powerful wrist of a man.

Mrs. Jessup, as Miss Zinderstein, challenged Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory's claim to national honors two or three years ago.

It is to be hoped that if Suzanne of France elects to aid her country in the Olympic games at Paris she will get a chance to match her skill with that of Miss Wills. There are many who believe that the young California girl can succeed in turning back the formidable French star where Mrs. Mallory failed in repeated attempts.

Should Miss Lenglen compete and defeat Miss Wills in the singles, America can still bank on any pair of the four women on the team to win in the doubles event. Whatever the ultimate outcome of the games, Uncle Sam need feel no shame over the showing Mrs. Wightman, Mrs. Jessup, Miss Wills and Miss Goss make.

His actions would indicate that he does not care for love that comes too easily. Do not be jealous of your sister. You may not have her gay nature. But you have your own attributes and will be loved by some more than she would be. It takes all kinds of people to make a world you know. Your big failing is certain jealousy and if you want to be happy and attractive you will use every bit of common sense you possess to overcome it.

PUZZLED: Wait four or five days before answering the letter. It is correct to acknowledge a gift as soon as it is received, not waiting for the other party to write first. Use cold cream at night before retiring for your chapped face. Also put a little on before going out in the wind.

ENJOYED A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP

"I wish to say that FOLEY PILLS worked O. K. on me in a couple of hours and the pains left me at once. I took a couple of them in the afternoon, went to bed and had a good night's sleep and have slept good ever since," writes Con Thiel, 118 E. Columbia St., Fort Wayne, Indiana. FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, will thoroughly flush the kidneys and increase their activity. Beauty Chats

By EDNA KENT FORBES

CORNS AND SUCH TROUBLES

I find in one of the newspapers a brief paragraph quoting the opinion of a Milwaukee member of the American Medical society, who says that foot ailments are being conquered by chemistry, and that soon there will be no such thing as a corn or a bunion. This is all very cheerful. I am not as sure as he is that chemistry will do away with these troubles, for chemistry cannot prevent a corn resulting from a tight shoe, or a bunion from a pointed shoe, nor will it prevent such troubles as an ingrowing toenail and fallen arches.

If you have bad corns and bunions get your physician to send you to an approved chiropodist. Do not think you are wasting money. If you have skin trouble you will go to a skin specialist, if nerve trouble to a nerve specialist, why not then take foot troubles to a foot specialist?

But, if you think you can manage at home, purchase yourself a corn knife and a corn file made of pumice paper, soak your feet in hot water either with a little borax and soap in the water or with a little magnesium sulphate, an ounce to every three pints of water. Remove the loose, callous skin with pumice stone or the pumice paper corn file. The corns themselves will have swollen as a result of the soaking, the tops can be cut off with the corn knife. In fact, if a corn is very bad some of the dead skin can be cut off and the foot soaked again to loosen still more of it. Be very careful you do not cut into the live skin. Paint the corn with a little bit of collodion and keep a soft, thin pad over it for a day or two so the shoe will not rub.

Soft corns between the toes are the same as hard corn. They are kept soft by the moisture of the feet. Vascular corns, which are mostly under the surface, should always be treated by a chiropodist. Bunions should also be treated by a specialist.

Miss Sadie B.—Your oily scalp, pimples and blackheads may all be traced to poor elimination. Try to improve the condition by eating enough fruit to keep the system cleared all the time. Drink plenty of water between meals and do not eat much meat or oily foods.

Barbara C.—Clycetine will not cause blackheads.

Toots—There is a surgical operation for straightening bow legs, but it is not advisable in your case, for you can wear your skirts long enough to cover the defect. No one should wear the high heels you mention.

Billie—Any liquid powder so fills up the pores that it tends to clog them, and blackheads could easily follow if the skin showed that it was affected this way.

C. E. B.—Have your doctor prescribe a tonic for you, as the sallow skin and red circles under eyes would indicate that you are not in the best of health. You can help yourself much if you include in your diet at this season plenty of fresh vegetables and salads, especially those made from dandelion.

Tomorrow—Double Chins

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Poems That Live

THE SPRING OF LOVE
A little sun, a little rain,
Of soft wind blowing from the West,
And woods and fields are sweet again
And warmth within the mountain breast.

A little love, a little trust,
A soft impulse, a sudden dream,
And life as dry as desert dust,
Is fresher than a mountain stream.

Every housekeeper likes to have at least one rose jar in her home. There is nothing that gives a more delicate aroma to living room or bedroom than dried, perfumed rose leaves prepared as follows:

To Make a Rose Jar: Save the leaves from roses and dry them in the sun for two days. On the third day pack them (temporarily) in a quart-size preserve jar of the wide-mouthed variety, in layers, with a sprinkling of salt between each layer. The woman who has rose bushes in her own garden will not have to wait long before gathering enough to fill a small, fancy jar. But the woman who has no garden will have to collect her rose leaves as she can—as kind friends present her with their gardens' yield—and it may take her all of the rose season to get enough together for this purpose.

Most rose jars are no more than three or four inches and have bulging sides, and generally, holes in the cover, through which the faint rose-perfume may escape. But it is not necessary to have one of these regular rose jars. Any small, artistic-looking jar which has a cover, will do nicely as a substitute. When you wish to let the odor permeate the room, simply tip the cover on the jar or remove it altogether for a little while. I know of a girl who used a round crockery jar for her rose leaves and decorated its sides and cover with oil paints in an attractive, original design. A glass jar, too, makes a pretty rose jar because the petals may be seen through the glass.

When you feel that you have enough dried rose leaves to fill the jar you intend to use, proceed this way:

Turn the dried petals out onto a large sheet of wrapping paper and stir into them thoroughly the following mixture (which any drug store will put up for you): Two drachms of alcohol, ten drops of bergamot, 20 drops of eucalyptus oil, four drops oil of roses, one-half teaspoon of whole cloves, one ounce oforris root, one-half teaspoon of cinnamon ground, one-half teaspoon of mace, one ounce of any preferred sachet powder, and three drops of oil of rose-geranium or oil of orange. Put the petals into your small, fancy jar and the work is completed.

The housewife who cannot often afford to buy cut flowers and who has no house plants, will find a rose jar especially delightful in the wintertime. Or, if she does not wish one for herself, she will find that any friend will welcome a rose jar as a birthday or Christmas gift. It seems a waste to let the rose season go past without taking advantage of it in this way.

PREY OF JEALOUSY

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 19 years old and have been seeing a young man of 29. I have been working every day and I saw him a year or more before I met him. For a time or two I went with a man who works with the young man I love and then we quit going together.

I saw this man one afternoon and he asked me for a date. He came that night and I have been going with him for about eight weeks. I see him every morning and every night and he comes every other night and also writes. He tells me I am the only girl he loves. I surely do love him.

The last two times he came he acted as if he did not enjoy himself as I wanted him to. A friend of mine likes him and he took her to a party and I did not know anything about it. When he came he told me about taking her and I said it was all right. But it was Housekeeping department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

not. I try not to be jealous, but I show it and I can't help it. He came to see me Sunday and when he left he said he would see me in a while, but I haven't seen him. I don't know what to do. Do you think he cares for me?

I am also jealous of my sister. She talks and laughs and has a big time with everybody. She and I are quite different. I want to act the same, but when I go to say anything I am afraid I will make a mistake.

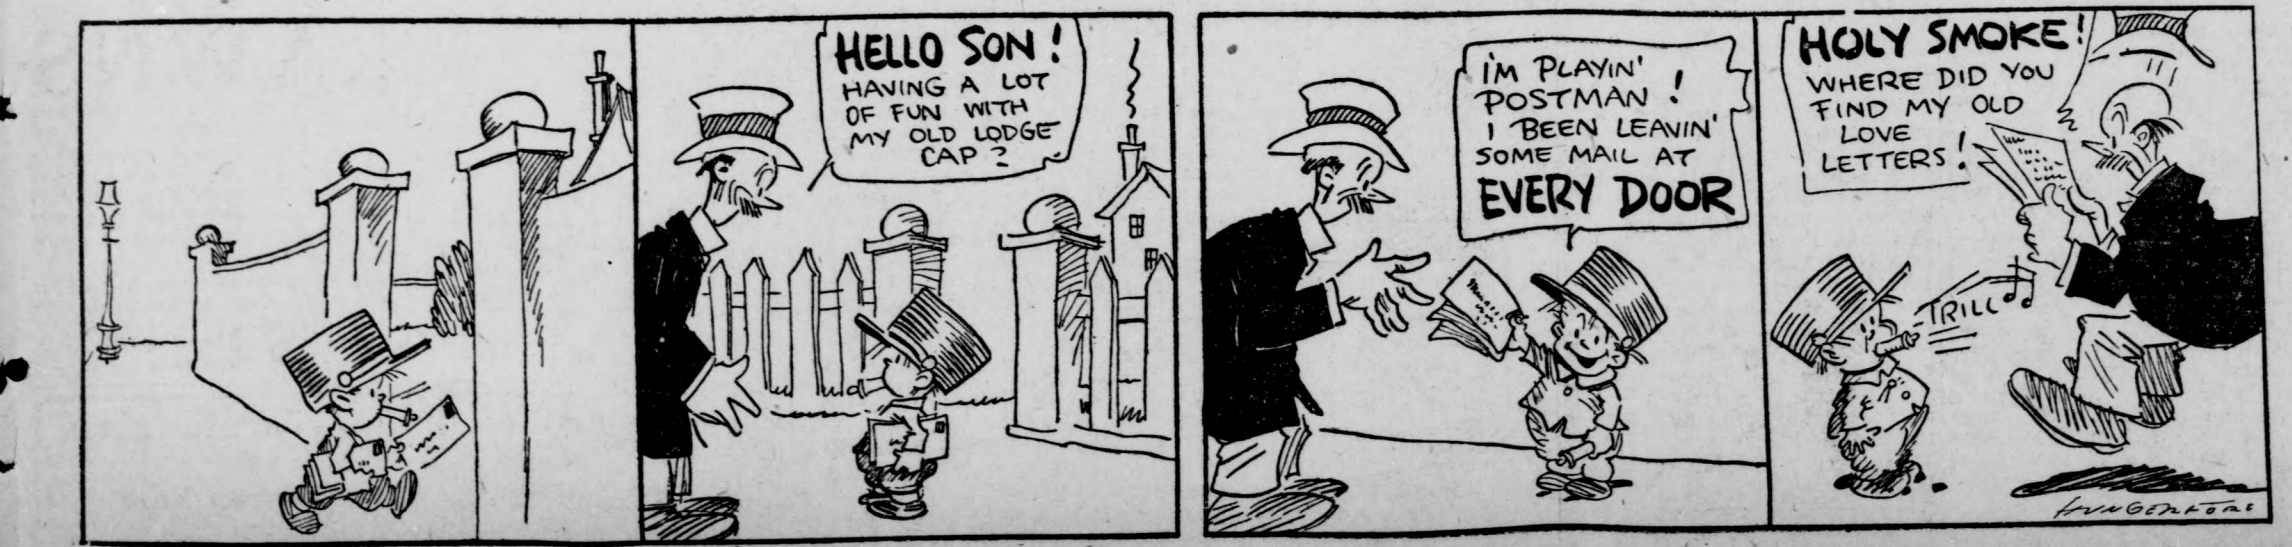

I did not see my friend today. I feel as if he was angry with me, but I hope not. Please tell me what to do. I don't want my friend to know I was jealous, but he does all he can to make me show it. I want to win back his love as I had it when I first met him.

TRYOUTS IN L. A. COLISEUM WORTH COST OF TICKET

Glendale's Allotment for Big Event Is Limited; Ducats on Sale

"If there is a man in Glendale who does not believe that a race between Paddock, Argue, Buckman and Nash, with Keith Lloyd and Vic Klein thrown in for good measure is not worth the one, two or three dollars asked for tickets to the Olympic tryouts on May 24 at the Coliseum, then we don't want him to buy a ticket," stated Coach Norman Hayhurst of the high school yesterday, and then added, with a shrill smile, "unless he thinks that he can afford to invest that much money to help send the finest aggregation of athletes in the world to Paris for the purpose of competing in the Olympic games."

Hayhurst, at the request of the Olympic committee, has consented to supervise the sale of tickets in Glendale for the big event May 24. It's the first time he has ever undertaken anything like this, and he said yesterday that he only did it because he believed the proposition was a worthy one, and that he was for American supremacy in sport.

He is going to enlist the assistance of the various luncheon clubs, and the members of the high school track team in selling the tickets, and in addition probably will have them on sale at several of the downtown stores.

Allotment Small
"The portion allotted Glendale out of the southland's $50,000 is very small," he said, "and we cannot afford to let the outside world think that Glendale as the fastest growing city in America does not also stand for good, clean sport."

There probably is more interest being displayed in the forthcoming Olympic tryouts than at any similar event staged in Los Angeles. The cream of the southwestern athletic world will be in competition, and it is not at all unlikely that several world's records will fall that day. The successful candidates will go to Boston to compete in the finals in June, and successful ones there will make the trip to Paris.

Sell-Out Assured
The tickets sent to Glendale are general admission at $1 and reserved seats at $2. Those who plan to attend would do well to get their tickets early, says Coach Hayhurst, as already over 50,000 have been sold. As the seating capacity of the Coliseum is only 75,000 at the present time, it looks as if it were going to be a sell-out.

Until the tickets are placed on sale at the stores, they may be purchased from Coach Hayhurst at the high school, or at the Glendale Evening News office, who will assist him in the placing of the tickets. A representative of each luncheon club will be given a ticket for each member of his respective organization, and the Community Service will be asked to assist in the drive.

SPORT WISDOM
By WALTER CAMP
By Special Leased Wire to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924
NEW YORK, May 8.—Reports coming from the Scandinavian countries make it evident that the United States is going to have its hands full winning the Olympic games.

A shot put of more than 54 feet, a pole vault of 14 feet, a hammer throw of 200 feet, and a mile run in 4 minutes 10 to 25 seconds, are enough to alarm anybody. And if the Finns and Swedes can reach these figures in the international competition, they should certainly make a lot of trouble.

Still there are plenty of Americans who believe with our sprinters—Murchison, Paddock, Hussey, Bowman and Clark—we are secure. And that, despite the fact that Liddell, the Britisher, showed possibilities as the Penn relay. There also are many who do not believe that anyone can best Gourdin and Hubbard in the broad jump. De Mar's work in the marathon adds confidence, although we have not enough men in these distance events.

There is still much discussion as to America's chances in the 1,600 meter run. With Joe Ray, Baker, Enck, Connolly and Hahn we certainly have a strong force, and it will be interesting at the tryouts to see which of them is in best shape.

Maxwell Fights Way To Second Team Man
Yesterday afternoon Weine Maxwell won the honor of playing second man on the Glendale tennis team by swamping Llewellyn White, 6-1, 6-3. Maxwell took the offensive from the start and easily outplayed his opponent's shots. In the last set for a short time Maxwell lost his stride but soon recovered and breaking through White's service ran out the match. This afternoon at the Harvard High School Francis Harkey will play Lee Osborne for the right to be fourth man.

Carpentier Starts Second Journey to America to Fight

PARIS, May 8.—Georges Carpentier, former light heavyweight champion of Europe, set out yesterday for his second pugilistic invasion of the United States. Carpentier left for Cherbourg to sail upon the liner Majestic. "I hope for better luck this time," Carpentier said. Referring to his previous defeat in America by Dempsey. Among admirers at the station to say farewell was Douglas Fairbanks, moving picture star. "Good luck," shouted Fairbanks as the train pulled out.

MOVE LOCKERS TO BROADWAY FIELD

High School Athletes Take Couple Days Off; Team Out for Football

With all hands working in the new locker rooms in the concrete bleachers at the Broadway field school installing the steel lockers which are being moved from the Harvard street school, the Red and Black athletes are taking two days off, but after things have been straightened out, Coaches Hayhurst and Butterfield, and Wolfe have planned a strenuous program for the Glendale squads. Spring football practice will be undertaken in real earnest by many of last year's letter men and several stars of the freshman team of last year. Dotson and Lavelle are on the baseball squad of Coach Butterfield, so will not take on any football work at present.

Considerably backed over the win against South Pasadena, the local baseballers are working hard to win their remaining games in order to secure for Glendale the cup emblematic of the supremacy in major sports for the season in the Central league. Glendale must finish well up in the standing in order to do this.

Start Grid Practice
Spring football practice will comprise mostly passing and kicking. Very little formation work will be undertaken, as signal work is very apt to be forgotten during the summer vacation. Some forty candidates are out and the coach expressed the opinion that he had a much better squad to start this year than he had in 1923, when he played through to the semi-finals in the southern California prep circles.

While not exceptionally large, the new shower and locker rooms are better than those in the Harvard street high school and it is expected that much more interest will be manifested in athletics from now on than has been the case in the past.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

NEW YORK, May 8.—A bombardment of five athletic pitchers that included doubles for Glendale the Yankees their third straight win over the Athletics yesterday, 7 to 1. It was the ninth consecutive defeat for the Yankees. Pennock weakened in the seventh and was replaced by Hoyt.

Solons, 5; Red Sox, 4.
BOSTON, May 8.—After winning six straight games, the Red Sox lost to Washington here yesterday, 5 to 4, in 11 innings. In the last inning, with Judge on third, Quinn headed a wild pitch and the runner scored with the winning run.

Browns, 10; Indians, 8.
CLEVELAND, May 8.—The Browns won from the Indians yesterday in a drawn out game, 10 to 8. St. Louis scored six runs in the first inning. Cleveland tied it in the fifth. The visitors made four in the line-up.

Tigers to Entertain High School Students
High school men of Southern California are to be the guests of Occidental college Saturday at the annual High School Day for men. An entertaining program has been prepared for the visitors and includes a glass into every base of college life. Regular Friday classes will be held on Saturday morning, making Friday a holiday for the Oxy students.

At the regular student assembly there will be a pep rally for the varsity baseball game with the Occidental track team, winners of the conference champion and many eastern honors. Coach Joseph Pipal will give an interesting talk on college athletics. Following this program the Arden Dramatics Society will present several one-act plays. The High School Day will close with a reception at the home of President Bird.

EARLY FLOPS ARE HARD TO EXPLAIN

No One Able to Account for Action of Cleveland and Philadelphia Teams

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, May 8.—Baseball men seldom at a loss to explain anything from comic opera to sleeve garters are unable to account for the early season flop of the Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Athletics. Picked to roost high in the first division, they have been consistent losers since the opening of the American league campaign, and only an immediate and sustained reversal of form can save them from staking the rest of the field to a running start of such proportions that both clubs might very well be eliminated from further consideration.

The averages tell what has happened, but not why. The house of McGillicuddy is a bad last in club batting and has only one pitcher, Eddie Rommel, who seems to know his business. The Indians are hitting like fools, well above 300. Speaker's pitching has been all to the fiasco.

Just why this should be is a matter above and beyond ordinary comprehension. Uhl is the best pitcher in the league in 1923, but cannot win this season; Coveleskie and Morton have disappointed; Edwards and Shaute, youths, have done about as well as might be expected of them. Time may be a change for the better, but it is evident that the Indians will get nowhere in particular with the kind of pitching they are getting at the moment.

Calteck Ball Players Defeat Oxy Squad, 6-3
The Calteck Engineer varsity baseball team sneaked over a 6 to 3 victory on the Occidental Tiger nine in a fast game played on Patterson field yesterday. The Bears collected five runs in the first inning. After the opening period Squint Fulton began to hurl a good game for the Oxy squad. Groat pitched for the Engineers and struck out eleven, walked six, and allowed nine hits. Groat smashed out a three-bagger and a single.

The S. B. U. C. Grizzlies managed to down the strong Pomona nine, 4 to 2, making the game the fifth straight victory for the Southern Branch. They are leading the conference teams. Out at Redlands yesterday, the Whittier ball players smothered the Bulldogs, 8 to 3. Saturday Redlands plays at Pomona, Calteck is host to S. B. U. C. and Occidental goes to Whittier for revenge.

Conference Standing
Local U. C. 5-0 1.000
Pomona 4-1 .800
Whittier 4-1 .800
Occidental 2-3 .400
Redlands 0-5 .000

BASEBALL QUESTION BOX

If you have some question to ask about baseball—ask it here. Write W. A. R. Uhl, Editor, Glendale Evening News, 511 World Building, New York.

Copyright 1924 by The Evening News
QUESTION—Runner is trapped between bases and collides with a fielder. Before the runner can get back and he is touched by the fielder. Is the runner out or should he be allowed to advance? Sent to play to the base from which he started?

ANSWER—He is out if there was interference. In a general way a runner must protect himself when he is trapped between bases.

QUESTION—First and second bases are occupied. There is one out. Batter hits a line drive of the ball into the outfield. The runner on first base attempts to advance. The runner on second base comes down and tags the runner on first base. Is he out?

ANSWER—Yes. There is no exemption to the rule about being hit by a batted ball. He could have been hit in any way of the ball, but out any great danger to himself as a base runner. The batter is out because it is an infield fly.

QUESTION—Batter has two strikes and three balls. Pitcher throws a slow ball and hits the batter. The latter did not try to get out of the way of the ball. What must the umpire do?

ANSWER—The umpire has it in his power to rule the batter out for interference. He may also decline to permit the batter to take first if he is satisfied that the pitched ball was a ball and not a strike.

WAR STARTED BY BASEBALL CLUBS

Independent League Owners Opposed to Secretary of Association

By AL DIX,
Of The Evening News Staff.
There is a merry war on in the ranks of semi-pro baseball men in this section, with Frank Kerwin, owner of the White Sox and secretary of the Southern California Baseball Manager's association, on one side, and a bunch of magnates, headed by Larry Arnold of San Jose and Jack Feistner of Shell Oil on the other.

Just what the trouble is nobody outside of those directly concerned seems to know. Arnold and Feistner have organized an independent league, not affiliated with any association, and have drawn up a long schedule.

During the winter Shell Oil and Sawtelle, by the efforts of several coast league stars in their line up, managed to land at the top of the semi-pro heap, thereby gaining quite a lot of notoriety for themselves, and seem to think, according to the attitude they have taken, that the public will follow them.

Sawtelle Beaten
Since the Triple A league season closed Glendale has beaten Sawtelle, who were minus the services of Wally Hood, Babe Twombly and Fred Gunther. This proves that they are not as fast as they were in the winter. Without going into the merits of the arguments which opened the breach, the promoters of the independent league will have hard sledding. The managers' association, comprising over 100 ball players, is a power in the baseball world in the country, and any club outside of the fold is apt to have hard sledding.

It is only by co-operation that baseball is made to go. Kerwin, as owner of the White Sox and secretary of the association is in rather a peculiar position, and it is said that the rough and over the publicity given the Sox in the Los Angeles papers. If this is the case, the independent men are off on the wrong foot. Sawtelle and Shell Oil have received more free publicity than any other two teams in this part of the country.

Fans Will Suffer
Both leagues are going on the respective ways now, but we believe that Kerwin will outlast the independents. The White Sox boss can tell any one the grief connected with opening a ball park and organizing a team. In the meantime, of course, the fans suffer. Players are jumping from one outfit to another. Take the case of "Bimbo" Schramm. He was signed by Kerwin, yet played in the next Sunday with Belvedere. In the independent loop, managed by "Pep" Kerwin, Frank's brother.

This is not good for the game and the sooner the semi-pro magnates realize it and get together the better it will be for the game in general and fans in particular. Regardless of the outcome, the Sox are the best team in the West. Sox as the fight is led on the win as secretary of the association and not as owner of the White Sox.

TENNIS STARS TO HAVE BUSY TIME
Net Artists at Glendale High Are Entered in Several Meets

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.
For the next ten days the Glendale tennis men will have a full calendar. Friday and Saturday the Dudley Cup tournament at Santa Monica will hold their attention, and on Monday they meet the South Pasadena net quartet. May 16 the locals have a match with the Citrus court team, and May 17 they will compete in the Southern California interscholastic tournament at Fullerton.

It is hardly expected that any one from hereabouts will bring home the Dudley cup as Allan Herrington of Hollywood High is too good for almost any prep player in Southern California, he being fourth in the national juniors tennis rankings.

There is little doubt as to the Glendale chances of coping the Central league pennant. Alhambra High has the only team which will give the locals any trouble. Monday is the South Pasadena match here. Not one of the Dynamite should his tilt.

Two to Fullerton
Bob Laird, captain and first man of the Glendale team, and Weine Maxwell, second man, will both be going to Fullerton, and what one fails to do the other will put across. If both are on their games they should bring home trophy or two to add to the home school's collection. Their strongest adversaries are Rodney Houser of Alhambra, Craig of Huntington Beach, and Kussman and Cockcroft of Los Angeles High.

The Citrus four whom the Dynamites take on should all prey to the home team as they have no championship caliber on their team.

Phythian Is Winner In Bout With Woods
Hayden Phythian, star end of the U. S. C. football team, and Joe Woods, of the L. A. A. C. light-heavyweights, staged one of the greatest fights ever witnessed in Southern California, last night in the tryouts for the Olympic boxing team, staged at Doyle's Vernon arena. Phythian won by virtue of a nine count knock down in the third round. Woods had led him during the first two sessions.

Complete results were:
1—Al Leonard, lightweight, stopped Sanford Risdon in one minute.
2—Willie McMahon, heavyweight, stopped Ed Healey in one minute thirty seconds.
3—Julius Jessick, lightweight, stopped Ed Healey in one minute.
4—Joe Salas forced Walter Hall's hands to call it a technical knockout. Salas held the locals in the towel in answer to the cry for the third round.
5—Clayton Frye knocked out Clark Williams.
6—August Gotto kayoed Bernie Duarte in one round.
7—Halx Berger knocked out by Ad Allegrini. One round.
8—The Phythian-Woods fight. Woods had led him during the first two sessions.

HELEN WILLS ON LAUNT TO PARIS

Takes Mother on Journey; Stops in England to Meet Net Stars

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.
BERKELEY, Cal., May 8.—A little girl with sturdy arms and legs, wearing a black dress and hat, kissed her father good bye, found a train seat for her mother and started here yesterday on a journey that will end in Paris in July when she defends the prowess of American women in sport. The girl was Helen Wills, champion woman tennis player of the United States.

Pushing aside her school books at the University of California, Miss Wills quietly departed for New York, where she will sail May 16 for Europe to play in the Olympic games, and she hopes to match wits and brawn in a world title battle with Suzanne Lenglen, the French star.

Living up to her name of "Little Pooker Face," the 18-year-old American champion had only this to say about her trip: "I hope to win. I hope to win. I hope to win."

She's Out to Win
"No one can tell anything about a tennis match. I've worked hard to improve my game and should I meet Mlle. Lenglen I'll just do the best I can. I can't say anything else except that I want a chance to meet her, and hope I do."

Calm, determined, she lifted a firm chin, appearing to be thoroughly prepared for her European invasion. Miss Wills' early departure for London, she said, was to give her game finishing touches in England, where she will play in the British championships and the Wimbledon cup tilt at Wimbledon late in June before going to Paris for the Olympic play the middle of July.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—A one-handed play by Wehr in the tenth inning allowed the Giants to beat the Phillies yesterday, 4 to 2. Wehr threw the ball to second on a possible play when he could have cut Kelly off at the plate easily. Southworth, Philadelphia's New York pitcher, was hit with a single that scored Terry.

PITTSBURGH, May 8.—The Cubs pounded five Pirate hurriers for a total of fourteen hits here yesterday. The Cubs won, 5 to 1. Kaufmann held the Pirates to 8 hits. Chicago .0 0 3 1 0 0 1-5 14 Pittsburgh .0 0 0 0 1 0 0-2 8 2 Kaufmann and O'Farrell, Cooper, Adams, Stone, Steiner, Lundgren and Goch.

One of the biggest comedies the screen has ever known.

Washable Walls

KITCHEN walls and woodwork of delicate tints are a joy when painted with Bass-Hueter Satin Eggshell Finish. Discolorations from the steam of cooking; grease spots or finger prints can then be wiped off with a damp cloth. Better still, frequent washings will not injure the satin-like finish.

Leading hospitals, demanding a permanent sanitary finish use Satin Eggshell throughout. Apartment houses, where changes of tenancy necessitate constant cleaning, use it for both walls and woodwork in kitchens and bathrooms.

By following the directions on the can you will enjoy using Satin Eggshell Finish, or your contracting painter will be glad to use it at your request.

Official Minutes Of City Council

Following are the minutes of the Glendale City Council as prepared by the city clerk.

Council assembled at 10:00 o'clock, May 7. Present: Davis, Gilhuly, Hall, Robinson. Absent: Kimlin. Reading of minutes dispensed with.

Map Adopted

Councilman Hall introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution adopting Map of Tract 7078 and accepting on behalf of the public the avenues, streets, alleys, and public places shown thereon," which was read, and on his motion seconded by Councilman Davis, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2386 and adopted.

Widen Broadway

Petition signed by property owners, asking that Broadway be widened 10 feet on each side of the street from Pacific avenue to San Fernando road, was read. On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Hall, matter was laid over for one week and city clerk instructed to notify property owners that matter would come up for discussion at that time.

Flood Control

Communication, signed by property owners in Sycamore Canyon Wash district, protesting against the changing of the natural course of Sycamore Canyon Wash, was read. On motion petition was ordered referred to the city engineer.

Care for Children
On motion of Councilman Gilhuly, seconded by Councilman Hall, Mrs. H. W. Dougherty was granted permission to care for one child at 618 East Maple street.

Building Permit

Communication from Barnum & Walters company, asking for special building permit in Block 39 of Sparr Heights, was read and upon motion referred to the city manager.

Glendale Chautauqua

On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Hall, Glendale Chautauqua Association were granted permission to hang canvas banners on Brand Boulevard from Broadway to Colorado and one large banner at Los Feliz road and Brand Boulevard.

Ordinance Adopted

Moved by Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, that that certain proposed ordinance entitled, "An ordinance prohibiting heavy traffic over unimproved highways in the City of Glendale, defining such unimproved highways and repealing certain ordinances in conflict therewith," be amended by inserting in Section 3 thereof, following the words "Concord street from Doran street to Myrtle street," the following: "Cypress street from

Storm Drain Will Carry Off Water From Los Angeles

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento capitalists, represented by Peter R. Gadd, local engineer, have secured the contract for constructing twenty-eight miles of storm drain in Los Angeles with a bid of $2,700,000. Ten per cent of the bid, $270,000 already has been posted by Gadd.

The project will take two years and is the largest ever let under the state improvement act, it is said. It is designed to drain portions of Los Angeles which heretofore have been inundated during periods of heavy rainfall.

Glendale avenue to Los Angeles street.

The ordinance entitled, "An ordinance prohibiting heavy traffic over unimproved highways in the City of Glendale, defining such unimproved highways and repealing certain ordinances in conflict therewith," which was introduced April 29, 1924, was read, and on motion of Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, said ordinance, as amended, was adopted and numbered Ordinance No. 951.

On motion of Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Davis, duly carried, meeting was adjourned.

FAVOR LONG SLEEVES

PARIS, May 8.—Though this is a go-as-you-please era in regard to sleeves, the fairly long sleeve is seen today on many hot weather frocks. Often, however, a concession is made to the thermometers in the looseness of the cuff and the three-quarter length of the sleeve itself.

MUSIC PROGRAM BRINGS ARTISTS

Van den Berg and Campana
Will Present Concert
Tomorrow Night

Glendaleans are all most cordially invited to enjoy the program tomorrow night at the meeting of the Glendale Music club at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. In view of this being National Music Week, it will be an open meeting, with Brahm Van den Berg of 1131 North Adams place, American pianist, and Ettore Campana, baritone, appearing as entertaining artists.

Mrs. Nathan Rigdon, vice-president, who will preside in the absence of Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, who is now en route abroad for an extensive trip, announces the following program:

Varied Selections
"Ballade in G Minor" (Chopin), Mr. Van den Berg.
"Prologue" from "Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo), Mr. Campana.
"Danse Viennoise" (Van den Berg), Mr. Van den Berg. The Knabe Ampico will re-enact this number from a previous recording by Mr. Van den Berg.
"Dream of Love" (Liszt), "Prelude C Sharp Minor" (Rachmaninoff), Mr. Van den Berg.
"Toreador's Song" from "Carmen" (Bizet), Mr. Campana.
"Wedding March and Elf Dance" from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn-Liszt), Mr. Van den Berg.

Special stress is placed by Mrs. Rigdon on the fact that all club members are urged to renew their memberships Friday night. There will also be membership cards on hand for new members.
